GOOD WEATHER FOR CITY WORK

If it Holds Out Two Weeks Longer
the Street Department Will
Make General Clean up

If this weather continues for about two more weeks the street department will be able to clean up all of the work now in hand. This statement was made by Commissioner Donnelly this forenoon and he rapped on wood when he said it, because they say it is well to rap on wood when you say anything hopeful or boastful.

There's a big gang of men in Gorham street today and they are pretty well distributed along the line of work. Mr. Donnelly expects to begin paving in that street on Monday morning. Grouted stone and cement is being laid today and the work is being pushed with all possible haste.

It will require about two weeks more to complete the macadam work in Bridge street and if the weather holds out all will be serene. Paving blocks are being laid in Lawrence street and that job will be out of the way before Jack Frost puts in an appearance.

Sewer Work Rushing

Because of the laying of the twenty-four inch water main across the Merrimack river it is necessary to extend the sewer extension at the Alken street bridge. The water has been so high that the department has not been able to put down the four lengths of pipe necessary but it was stated today that the water was now sufficiently low to admit of work on the extension and it will be finished in a few days. Work on the Varnum avenue sewer is going along smoothly.

The Moody street canal bridge is fast nearing completion and, as before

BIG FOOTBALL BATTLE AT CAMBRIDGE LOWELL MAN

47,000 People Gather at Stadium to Witness the Game—Complete Ac- count in Next Edition

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 22.—The inter-collegiate football championship of the east hovered over the white gridiron of the Stadium today as the Harvard and Yale elevens lined up for the deciding game of the season. The Crimson went into the contest a pronounced favorite in the general betting although the backers of the Blue did not hesitate to accept the alluring odds of 10 to 7 and 10 to 6 wagered against the Yale team.

The game drew a record-breaking crowd of 47,000 people. No other athletic event in this country at which a paid admission was required has drawn such a multitude. In several marathon races a quarter of a million people have lined the 25 miles from Ashland to Boston but today's crowd in the Stadium made a new high-water mark in American athletic contests. The weather as the vanguard of the crowd reached Cambridge was fine from a spectator's standpoint but the Indian summer air lacked the encouraging snap which puts life and speed into football elevens. It was because of these somewhat enervating conditions that the matter of the physical fitness of the players was expected to play a prominent part in the contest.

Both Teams Confident

The customary favorable reports came from both camps. Yale at Auburndale and Harvard at Lowell were received during the forenoon but with the qualifications that Guernsey would probably supplant Dunn in the Yale backfield and that the Harvard left

Noe J. Lavigne, Who Has Trav- eled All Over the World, Writes Interesting Letter to The Sun

Noe J. Lavigne, the well known Lowell baritone singer, who has traveled all over the world, singing grand opera, writes The Sun an interesting account of what he saw during his stay in Adelaide, Australia, this being one of a series of writings he promised the writer a few months ago when he was on a brief stay in this city as the guest of his mother and sister.

Mr. Lavigne, who is known in stage life as "Reynard," is now in Scotland, where he is fulfilling a several weeks' engagement. From there he will go to Ireland for a few weeks and then he will sail to South Africa. He expects to return to his home city, Lowell, in two years.

The Lowell singer was in Adelaide in June of the present year, and it was during that stay that he wrote the following article:

"I stopped at the Tivoli theatre in Adelaide for four weeks, and was royally received at every performance. Adelaide, according to what Mark Twain, the American writer, said, is noted for its excellent climate, and the beauty and cleanliness of the city and its environs, as well as the industry and hospitality of its people, are things worth while.

Truly there are few other cities which can present such a series of panoramic views and offer such delightful walks and drives, which may be enjoyed at small expense, and little exertion. In this city of 192,294 population, one is reminded in its streets of a Paris boulevard, and the North terrace is admittedly the most magnificent thoroughfare in Adelaide, although some say when referring to Adelaide, it is the Athens of the Country.

Beautiful Buildings

One good feature about this city is that its trees and shrubs are plentiful and add greatly to the cleanliness of the entire city. On the north side there is a number of public buildings and educational institutions, some of which are as follows: Parliament house, built of South Australian marble; Government house, Institute and Circulating library, Public library, Museum, Art gallery, University, Elder conservatorium of music, Exhibition building, School of Mines and Industries, Adelaide hospital, and many others.

6 ESCAPE AT TEWKSBURY

Men Who Ran Away From State Infirmary in Court Today and Sent to State Farm

Six cases were brought before Judge Enright this morning in police court this morning. He is totally blind and has been in jail sobering up for the past five days.

Galloway's wife told the court that the defendant, while under the influence of liquor, had grabbed her by the throat and threatened to "finish her" if she did not give him more money. She did not want the court to send her husband away but simply wanted him to stop drinking.

The defendant himself related his pitiful experience of the past four months. The doctors warned him that he was going blind and in utter discouragement he took to drink. When he became blind he drank still heavier in an endeavor to overcome his sorrow. Today, said Galloway, is the turning point in his career and from now on he will drink no more.

Ellen Maher, who hails from Portland, Me., was found guilty of drunkenness, but upon her promise to leave Lowell today was not sentenced.

Frank Maguire was given a four months' sentence to jail. Patrick W. Mullen, Rose Provencer and Joseph Gravel were all fined $5 for drunkenness.

Edmund Flynn was fined $15 for his third appearance on a drunkenness charge and given an opportunity to pay it. John F. Flynn was given a vacation of ten days at the Thorndike street resort.

George Sankulis, John Olasavith and Alex Luidesberg who appeared in police court yesterday for unlawfully evading the payment of fare on a Boston and Maine train were arraigned before Judge Enright this morning and each of the trio was fined $5.00.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Christopher Harris, 16, and Thomas Foley, 15, pleaded not guilty in the South Boston court today to the murder of 12 year old Mary Joyce and were held for the grand jury. It is alleged that the boys shot the little girl on Nov. 13 and then fled to Providence, where they were arrested the same night.

THE LAWRENCE STRIKE

MILL MEN ANNOUNCED THAT THEY DID NOT HAVE POWER TO SUBMIT TO ARBITRATION

LAWRENCE, Nov. 22.—Representatives of the mills this morning announced at a conference with Charles G. Wood of the state board of conciliation that they did not have power to submit to arbitration the demands of the stationary firemen now out on strike as they did not have sufficient time to talk over this proposition with the mill owners.

The agent of the Arlington mills alone agreed to arbitrate, but under certain conditions. In substance, his proposition was to adopt a schedule similar to the average of 12 of the largest manufacturing plants in the country as regards hours of work and he further said the Arlington would pay half a cent more an hour than the average paid by the 12 largest plants.

YOUTH STARVING PHONE CONTROL

Found in Street—Lured From Home by the Promise of a Job

GLOUCESTER, Nov. 22.—Robert Hubbard, 15 years old, of Tuckert, N. S., was picked up from one of the side streets of this city yesterday afternoon in a state of stupor, due to starvation. When he was revived at the station house, he told the police that he was lured to come to Gloucester from Nova Scotia by a man claiming to be Captain Oscar Lyons in Tuckert last week, and arranged to enter the employ of the company which Lyons said he represented.

With his cell clothes and rubber boots he left his home and arrived in Boston last Sunday afternoon.

While in Boston Lyons gave him 20 cents and told him to come to Gloucester and to meet him here later. The money given Hubbard was inadequate to meet the amount of the fare. He rode as far as he could on the trolley cars and then footed it to this city, arriving here early Tuesday morning.

His first night here was spent on one of the wharves. He has made a vain search for Lyons. The police are attending to the wants of Hubbard and think he will be able to return to Nova Scotia on a boat that leaves here next Monday. In the meantime they are looking for the pseudo Captain Lyons.

PARADE AT HAVERHILL

High School Football Victory Over the Lowell Team Celebrated by the Students

HAVERHILL, Nov. 22.—The Haverhill high school football team, which defeated Lowell high in their annual game yesterday at Lowell, was welcomed by the pupils of the school on its arrival home last night. Captain Whitmore and the other players were repeatedly cheered by the pupils, as were also Robert W. Frederick, coach, and A. E. Pike, physical instructor.

A parade was formed and, headed by John Carter, it marched through the retail business district, doing the snake dance. There were 750 students in line.

TO LAY OFF 2500

Report the N. E. T. & T. Company Will Drop Employees in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—A labor disturbance which may involve all employees of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. is threatened as a result of the reported intention of the company to lay off about 2500 men, chiefly in the maintenance department, next week.

The local telephone installers and inside workers union last night telegraphed the International union of telegraphers for official permission to consider any such layoff as a lockout. A committee was appointed to confer with the company officials. The result of this conference will be reported to the joint meeting of the executive boards of the six electrical unions of this city next Monday night. The union men claim that the telephone company plans to have the work of the men to be laid off performed under contract by non-union workers to be supplied by the Western Electric Co. The matter has been pending since last spring.

The electrical workers voted to strike, if necessary, to prevent such a step. At the recent International workers' brotherhood convention here full sanction was promised for any action taken by the local unions in case the company should adopt the contract method.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

WAS ATTACKED AND DEFENDED AT PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, Nov. 22.—The Monroe doctrine was attacked and defended at yesterday's session of the Pan-American conference at Clark university. Geo. F. Tucker of Boston, author of books on South American affairs, urged that the words "Monroe doctrine" be given up and a policy of Pan-American defense adopted. Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale expressed similar views.

Charles H. Sherrill, formerly American minister at Buenos Ayres, suggested that in case affairs in Mexico should make it necessary for the United States to intervene, Argentina or Brazil or some other South American country be invited to join.

Rear Admiral French E. Chadwick, U. S. N., retired, and Prof. James A. Callahan of West Virginia, discussed the doctrine at the afternoon session. Admiral Chadwick held that while the relations of the United States to the larger nations of South America should be as an equal among equals, the question of the Caribbean, the Gulf of Mexico and that part of the Pacific bordering Central America had a different status.

"Under no circumstances," said he, "can we brook any attempt on the part of foreign nations to secure new footholds in these regions. The protection of the Panama canal, which is so vital a link in our defense system, demands such an attitude."

Prof. Callahan defended the doctrine, saying that it had aided people who were struggling to free themselves from conditions imposed by European powers, and prevented the partition of Latin America. He declared that the development of orderly government around the Caribbean sea, the United States would gladly be relieved from the often embarrassing responsibility by which it has sought to preserve constitutional government and peace on the western hemisphere.

The conference ended last night with two addresses. W. B. Boylston, publisher and author, spoke on "The Advantages of Making the Panama Canal Zone a Free City and Free Port," and John Hays Hammond, the mining expert, discussed "The Development of the South American Trade."

WASHINGTON MAN ENDS HIS LIFE AT OTTAWA—LEAVES WIDOW AND FIVE CHILDREN

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 22.—The body of James A. Twoboy, an attorney of Washington, D. C., was found in a room in the Grand Hotel here last evening. A letter that lay on a table near the bed was addressed to Mrs. James A. Twoboy, Washington, D. C.

The man had committed suicide with a razor which was found in the side of the bed.

Mr. Twoboy, who was born in Washington, D. C., 13 years ago, is survived by a widow and five children.

SOLICITED FOR CAMPAIGN

Geo. H. McGuire Admits Asking Contributions in Return for Highway Contracts

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—George H. McGuire, the Syracuse building agent for state highway and large canal contractors, is a partner of Charles F. Murphy, Jr., nephew of the leader of Tammany hall. He so testified yesterday at the John Doe inquiry into highway graft and said that he had an agreement with Murphy to divide all the bonding business they obtained.

Further, McGuire confessed to having attempted to look up at least three asphalt companies for $5000 contributions to the state democratic committee in return for getting them contracts from the state highway department. McGuire was to get a commission of one cent a gallon for all the asphalt the companies sold to the state or to contractors, he said, and the companies were to charge the contributions against the commission.

Two of the companies, the Warner Quinlan company and the Union Oil company of California, did not contribute, he said. Whether the third, the Barber Asphalt company, contributed, McGuire said he did not know, but the Barber company got the contract. He said he had received a total of $1250 from Arthur S. Johnson, sales agent of the Barber company, but insisted that these were not commissions but money given him as a campaign contribution to Gov. Sulzer.

He said it was possible that he had also sought a contribution from the United States Asphalt company under the same terms. That company paid him $610 in commissions on materials which the company had sold to the repair department of the state highway commission and still owed him money, he said. So did the Wadsworth Stone and Paving company and the Barber company. He had last year received commissions also on sales made to the state by the Alsten Cement company, the Dryden Cement company, the Kentucky Rock Asphalt company and the Knickerbocker Cement company, he testified.

These admissions were drawn from McGuire only after insistent repetition of questions which District Attorney Whitman hurled at him in a gentle tone of voice. Before he took the stand McGuire went before the grand jury and among other things was questioned, it was understood, as to the part his brother, James K. McGuire, played in the sharing of commissions.

James K. McGuire, the witness testified yesterday, had sailed for So. America several days ago, but he thought he would be able to get in touch with him and bring him here.

McGuire again denied that in company with his brother he had seen Gov. Sulzer and John N. Carlisle, commissioner of highways, at Cooperstown, N. Y., on July 5th last and discussed the question of specifications under which the Barber Asphalt company would obtain state contracts to the exclusion of all other companies. He was not sure, however, but that he might have talked with Sulzer at a later date, but not in Cooperstown.

McGuire admitted that he had a conversation with the Barber company in which he had "suggested" that the concern make a $5000 campaign contribution to the democratic state committee in return for getting a state contract. He testified that he had held a similar conversation in this city with William Campbell, New York agent of the Union Oil company.

"Did you know it was a crime to solicit these contributions?" asked Mr. Whitman.

"I never knew it was a crime to solicit these commissions," replied McGuire.

In regard to his association with Charles F. Murphy, Jr., in the bonding business, McGuire said that he had an agreement with the Tammany leader's nephew which embraced a division of expenses and commissions on the bonding of all large canal state highway, subway and aqueduct contracts. They both represented the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, he said, and last year they had together obtained about 25 per cent. of state highway bonding business.

McGuire was preceded on the stand by Edward P. Burgard, a Buffalo contractor and chairman of the democratic general committee of Erie county, from which position he recently ousted William Fitzpatrick.

Burgard testified that he had a $2,500,000 state large canal contract and two smaller contracts for paving roads in Erie county. He had contributed $1000 personally to the democratic state committee in 1911 and in 1912 had turned over $5000 as contributions from other contractors which he said had been given to him by Reeves Smith of Fulton, N. Y., a consulting engineer. The checks, therefore were drawn to the order of Norman F. Mack, he added.

Three more state contractors testified yesterday to having given up campaign contributions to Everett P. Fowler, the alleged Tammany "bag man" now under indictment for extortion.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE

Appointed by Managers of N.Y. Exchange

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The special committee appointed by the board of managers of the New York cotton exchange on Oct. 2 to consider the question of changing the existing type standards, with the suggestion of making such changes in the contract as the committee might deem advisable and to inquire into the conditions of trading in the local market, made its report late yesterday.

It recommended that the exchange should adopt the standard types of the grades and half grades of white cotton promulgated by the department of agriculture in 1909 as the types to be used by the exchange for the classification of Gulf and Texas cotton adding thereto one lower grade.

The committee further recommended that types of upland white cotton equivalent in grade should be prepared by the exchange with the approval of the government if possible to be used for the classification of upland cottons and that a strong and determined effort be made to secure the cooperation of the department of agriculture and of congress in having such upland types added to and made the government standard types for upland cotton and adding thereto one lower grade.

It was recommended also that the government standard type be adopted with the additions noted, to take effect beginning April 1, 1915, but the committee stated that while advocating the adoption of the government standard types, it was nevertheless of the opinion that it would be better for the New York cotton exchange and for the cotton trade generally if the standard types known as the International standard types could be substituted for the present government standard types.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

A play in every respect as interesting and picturesque as any yet presented by the Players' at the Merrimack Square theatre is Kate Claxton's great human play, "The Two Orphans," which will be the offering at this popular theatre the coming Monday. Being the original New York New Amsterdam theatre version, it is naturally the best, and with the different favorite members all cast to their best advantage, patrons will no doubt take keen pleasure in this particular attraction.

Most everyone has either seen or heard of the play, so there is hardly need of a description. Suffice to say that every detail of this great bill will be brought out to the fullest extent. The parts have been allotted to the different members with regard to their fitness for that particular character. "Henriette" must be the unfortunate Louise. This is an exciting role in which Miss Young will be given an excellent opportunity to display her versatility. While Miss Rosalie De Veaux will play "Louise," the company's popular leading man will be seen as Chevalier Maurice De Maudry, and one of the newest members of the company, Mr. Edward Edise will play the cripple, "Pierre." Others to contribute their personality and talent will be Reels, Charles, Nathalie Rouders, Marie Reels, Jack Hayden and Frank De Camp. Director Sydney has followed the script very carefully and has arranged for an excellent scenic production, so that on the whole it is safe to assume, that the final result will prove satisfactory to the patrons.

As usual the latest photo-plays will be shown. These include a Keystone comedy, a pictorial review of the world's latest news, and a dramatic film of interest. The last will no doubt prove to be one of the most interesting which has ever been shown at this popular theatre. The pictures will be shown for an hour before the performance of the regular performances.

The Sunday concert which will be given tomorrow, will also hold much to the great joy of the audience. The program is a complete change of photo-plays. Seats for all performances now on sale. For week commencing Monday, Dec. 1, Helen Ware's last season New York success, "The Deserters" will be given.

The business meeting and entertainment of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Patrick's church, which graced the hall of the boys' parochial school of the parish last night was brilliantly successful and attended with interest and enthusiasm while the number of the members present was the largest of that of any session during the past year.

Rev. Joseph A. Curtin, the energetic spiritual director of the organization, was present and gave an extremely thoughtful and inspiring talk on "Charity," which is the constant object of the willing efforts of the ladies of the society. Rev. Fr. Curtin spoke of the blessing which accrues to the giver, the joy of right giving and the happiness which one may enjoy in being able to engage in the noble work of charity. The company's society on its work in the past and urged even greater interest and enthusiasm in carrying out the object of the Ladies' Aid society in the future.

The business meeting which was held was far from being the least important part of last evening's gathering. Important matters were discussed and final action taken. Several committees were appointed to devote particular attention to the furthering of the good work of the various departments, and a special committee was selected to arrange for social events to take place during the winter months.

A social hour was enjoyed following the session of business, and a musical program of music rendered by the talented ones of the society. The opening number was a vocal selection rendered in a delightfully competent manner by Miss Teresa Shattley, with Miss Veronica Rediker as accompanist. A solo by Miss Ellen Lynch was also given, and a duet by Misses Loretta Hannan and Miss Veronica Rediker was rendered a pleasing vocal selection. The concluding number was a perfectly executed piano solo by Miss Veronica Rediker. Each member departed with the memory of an evening of the greatest pleasure.

PRIMITIVE M. E. BAZAAR
Last night was the fourth of the five-night bazaar organized by the Ladies' Aid society of the Goodwin Methodist church, and as on the previous evenings, the vestry of the church was well filled. The program of the evening was given by the choir of the Lawrence street P. M. church, under the direction of William Bell and Rev. A. H. Bedford, and consisted of the following numbers: Opening chorus by the choir; solo, Miss Mary Green and Miss Bell; male quartet, W. C. Parker, David Allen, Miss Vennard and William Bell; sketch, Frank Vennard; song, Miss Katherine Vennard; song, David Allen; solo and chorus, William Bell and choir, Miss William Bell accompanist.

KILL 1600 DEER

Largest Number Ever Shot in One Week in This State

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—The largest number of deer ever shot and killed in this state in the opening week of the hunting season is reported at the state house as having been brought down by the hunters of the state this week. The number will approximate 1600, surpassing that of last year by nearly 400.

City Marshal John C. Barnes of Chicago established a record this week when he shot and killed a buck weighing 460 pounds, while hunting at Monson. Charles Blackens of North Wabraham is reported as having shot a 450 pound buck. The smallest deer brought down was a 72-pound doe, shot by George Beck of Dudley.

Deer were not plentiful this week in the western part of the state. Sportsmen who searched the woods in quest of deer found game other than deer. Two bears were brought home yesterday by E. B. Rosati of Springfield. E. Wright of Reading collected a bounty of $5 for the 35 pound tawny lynx that he caught early in the week.

The markets of the state are being watched by the agents of the fish and game commission for the illegal sale of deer. The state law forbids a person selling a deer which he has shot. No violations have been reported thus far. The deputies of the commission report that they have patrolled the woods of the state thoroughly, but as yet have found no one hunting without a license.

CAR STEPS TOO HIGH

COMPLAINTS WERE MADE YESTERDAY AT INVESTIGATION OF STREET CAR SERVICE

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Complaints that street car steps are too high were made yesterday at the investigation of street car service. This was one of many complaints taken up before the joint commissions sitting under authority of the legislature.

The public service commission and the Boston transit commission were sitting as a joint board. Commissioner George W. Anderson of the first named commission presided.

Complaints from several branches of the United Improvement association were presented by Edgar T. Morris, chairman of the transportation committee of that association. He spoke of the congestion at the Forest Hills terminal during rush hours, also at Dudley street, the standing of street cars at places other than crossings, the absence of any connection between Forest Hills and the Back Bay, and said street car steps were too high for women passengers.

An appeal for a separate hearing for the people of East Boston was made by Representative-elect Niland, and a similar request for the people of South Boston was made by William T. Mignault for the South Boston societies which were unable to secure a hearing a few days ago.

TO CLEAN, OR NOT TO CLEAN
That is the question. Whether it is better to use antiquated ideas or modern cleansing machinery, has been tested fully in this establishment. We do not infer that we, of late years, have employed state methods, but we have been the oldest established cleaning establishment in the city since we had to use the "old-fashioned" way.

"HERE I AM, DAD"

Newtonville Boy Who Ran Away Sneaks Home to Father

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—After detectives from the W. J. Burns agency had been assigned to search for him and the whole of Newton had been aroused by his disappearance, Winslow A. Cole, 15 years of age, relative of Boston Fire Commissioner Charles H. Cole, and son of Alfred Q. Cole of 45 Ous street, Newtonville, stole in the back door to the library where his father sat reading. "Here I am, dad," was his salutation.

Last Tuesday young Cole went to attend a gymnasium class at the Newton Y. M. C. A. building and had not been heard from since.

Since Wednesday the boy has been employed at the Harist shop of Jullian A. Zinn on West street, and had frequently asked policemen in the city how to reach addresses for the delivery of papers. Though all the officers had his description, none recognized the boy.

The boy's father and mother were divorced 10 years ago, and Mr. Cole believed that the boy had been taken away by his former wife, now an actress. It is understood, in New York, that the boy, at the time of the divorce, was given into the custody of his father. It was reported by the detectives that he was held by friends of his mother and that arrests were expected. When he left home Tuesday, Winslow says he had a sudden desire to see a little of the world, but as he had only $1.55 in his pocket he could not go far.

In Boston he confined himself to walking and attending moving picture shows till Tuesday night, when he went to the People's Palace at 1 o'clock and took a room. He registered under his own name.

SMALLPOX DISCOVERED

EILEEN FITZGALD REPORTED ILL WITH DISEASE IN FITCHBURG—12 CHILDREN IN FAMILY

FITCHBURG, Nov. 22.—A case of smallpox was reported to the board of health last night by Dr. Lassette of Leominster in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Fitzgald, Palulah road. The patient is Eileen Fitzgald, their 15-year-old daughter.

According to the physician, the girl has been ill since Nov. 12, but it was not discovered until late yesterday afternoon that she was suffering from smallpox.

The girl is one of a family of 12 children, six of whom attend St. Francis' parochial school, the others being employed at different factories.

The attending physician reported that the case is a mild one. Just how the disease was contracted is not known. The mother of the girl returned from a visit to relatives in Canada on Nov. 12.

The agent of the board of health visited the house last night and placed the family in quarantine. An officer will be stationed at the house to prevent any one of the family from leaving the house and to keep people from entering it.

So far as the attending physician was able to learn, none of the other members of the family are affected with the disease.

"FATHER OF LABOR DAY"

GEORGE MCGUIRE, WHO FIRST SUGGESTED HOLIDAY IN 1884, DIED IN MANCHESTER

MANCHESTER, N. H., Nov. 22.—George McGuire, the "Father of Labor day," died at his home, 274 Manchester street, last night at the age of 85. He was a cigar maker, and a member of the local Cigar makers' union and of the Acacia of Eagles of Boston. He leaves a wife.

Mr. McGuire won prominence by being the first person to suggest the labor holiday. He made the suggestion at a labor convention in Chicago as early as September, 1881, and again the next year at a convention held in Cincinnati.

In the spring of 1886, while a delegate from his own local union in Boston to the Central Labor union of that city he again took the matter up and suggested that the first Monday in September be observed with a parade and picnic. From this sprang the idea of parades on Labor day.

While a resident of Hinghamton, N. Y., 25 years ago he was one of the strike leaders and was arrested four times for disobeying an injunction which prohibited the payment of benefits to men out on a strike.

EX-COUNCILOR BURIED

MANY ATTEND FUNERAL OF J. STEARNS CUSHING AT NORWOOD—BUSINESS SUSPENDED

NORWOOD, Nov. 22.—It was generally agreed by all who saw it that the funeral of Ex-Councilor J. Stearns Cushing held yesterday afternoon was one of the most extraordinary demonstrations of respect and esteem for a public man that has been seen in this state in years.

Two floors of the Cushing residence, Saunders road, were crowded with relatives or friends, the corridors and stairways were also fully occupied and a great crowd overflowed into the street, earnestly bent on showing all possible respect for the man, yet unable to hear anything of the service inside the house.

The floral display was large and beautiful. The casket was draped with the American flag. During the service all business was suspended and flags were at half-staff on all public buildings and on factories.

Rev. Edward A. Horton of Boston had charge of the funeral service. It is a notable fact that not only has he been chaplain of the senate during Mr. Cushing's service, in the governor's council, but he is also chaplain of three organizations to which Mr. Cushing belonged, and which were liberally represented at the funeral, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company, Massachusetts Grand Lodge of Masons and G. A. R. Post 113.

After Dr. Horton had finished the religious part of the service, Boston Commandery, K. T., performed the Masonic ritual. A quartet sang for both forms of the service. Feeling eulogies were delivered by Dr. Horton and by Chaplain Warren B. Mills and Frederick C. Green, eminent commander of the commandery.

Dr. Horton began the service with Scripture reading, then spoke appreciative words of the character and life of Mr. Cushing, whom he had known intimately for many years. He used four corner stones to typify his character: Earnestness, demonstrated in unflinching enthusiasm in fitting himself for his very successful career; second, good will, which included generosity, consideration for others and a desire to confer happiness on others; third, loyalty to his convictions, his friends, his home, the state and the nation; fourth, selflessness, which carried with it strength of purpose and, above all things, sincerity. "You always knew where to find him," said Dr. Horton. "He could work with men while differing with them. He always had a true, wholesome American patriotism."

"He was a self-made man, rose from the rank and file and always remained in close touch and sympathy with common folks. He made himself such a master in his own craft that his work was regarded throughout Europe, and particularly in England, as among the best in the world."

"In his home life he was particularly admirable. An ideal husband and father, whose devotion to his own household was one of his most prominent characteristics, yet ever noted for generous hospitality. He carried his patriotism into affairs of state, which led him to never delegate to another what had been intrusted to him to do personally."

"His great monument will be the extensive business he built up during the last 15 years in Norwood."

The quartet sang "Eternal Goodness." Dr. Horton offered prayer, the Masonic ritual was then performed and Dr. Horton ended the service with benediction.

The body was taken to Forest Hill this morning for cremation. The ashes will be brought back in Norwood and buried in Highland cemetery.

QUARTET OF LOWELL HIGH PLAYERS WHO DISTINGUISHED THEMSELVES IN YESTERDAY'S GAME, WHICH HAVERHILL WON BY SCORE OF 54 TO 7

CAHILL,
CenterROANE,
Right EndMOEHRIE,
Right Tackle

The Lowell High football team received one of the worst beatings which any team from Lowell ever had passed out to them when Haverhill "high trampled" the local boys into the dirt at Spaulding park yesterday and scored no less than 54 points while Lowell was scoring but one.

The game was witnessed by 2400 people, many of them being from Haverhill and other nearby cities.

The Lowell team never was in the running. Haverhill had an advantage in weight but that was not the reason why Lowell suffered such a stinging defeat. The visitors knew football and played as a unit while the local boys were sadly lacking in the first fundamentals and did not display that teamwork which is so essential to a successful eleven. Haverhill high richly deserved its victory.

As individuals the Lowell team struggled along, in most cases, with all the fight and spirit that one could ask for but the odds were too heavy. The score would not have been so disparaging to Lowell, perhaps if Coach Mahoney had not taken out his first string men, when he foresaw defeat, and put in substitutes.

Brunelle, Lowell's Star

Brunelle was the star of the game from a Lowell viewpoint and proved himself the equal, if not the superior, of any back on the Haverhill team. Danny was in the game for the greater part of the first half and flashed some spectacular open field running upon the spectators. He ran thirty yards for a touchdown through the entire Haverhill team.

Roane at end was one of the few local boys who demonstrated that he knew how to tackle. This youngster flashed his way into every play whether on his side of the line or on the other and made tackles in the open that would put many college ends to shame.

Cahill also played a whirlwind game at tackle and kept kicking Reed in all their exchanges except one when the ball went out of bounds. Cahill was in the game throughout his stay in the lineup and the whistle always found him on the ground.

Corbett at center was up against an aggressive man in Menzies but did very well with him. Corbett and the two guards worked well on the delayed pass, which was worked quite frequently by Haverhill. This play seldom netted the visitors more than a yard or two.

Moehrie, who was hurt toward the close of the game, displayed his steady, consistent plugging which has made him a factor in high school football during the past two years. Moehrie, as well as Cahill, was boxed on many plays and run completely out of the play. This was not due to any inability in either man but rather to the inadequate defense which Lowell presented on all skin tackle attacks. Moehrie, fortunately for the Lawrence game next Thursday, was not severely injured.

First Period

Capt. Brunelle won the toss for position and chose the western goal to defend. With the high school drum corps playing the Dartmouth football song, "As the Backs Go Tearing By," the players trotted to their positions, for the kickoff. The applause from the north side of the field, the Lowell section, was deafening as Capt. Brunelle led his men onto the gridiron. Cahill "T" the ball and kicked at 2:42 o'clock to the Haverhill 15-yard line. Reed received the ball and after fumbling brought it back ten yards. Gilroy made 13 yards through left tackle. Reed gained five at center. Messenger reeled off five more. Gilroy hit left tackle twice for a total of 12 yards of territory. Then the officials penalized Haverhill 15 yards for holding. Roane threw Gilroy for a six-yard loss. Reed's forward pass to Greene was incomplete. Reed kicked to Bowers who was thrown in his tracks. Bowers made seven yards in a plunge through right tackle. Brunelle made first down through the same position on the right wing. Bowers caught a forward pass, but was downed so hard by Gilroy that he fumbled the ball and Haverhill recovered it. Messenger took the ball around left end for a gain of eight yards. Lowell was penalized five yards for off-side playing and Messenger made first down in two plunges at right tackle. Reed carried the ball to the home team's 15-yard line and gained only a yard on his next attempt. Messenger again made first down, placing the ball on Lowell's three-yard line and Reed carried the ball over for the first score of the game on a skin tackle drive on the right side of the line. Gilroy kicked an easy goal, adding one more point to the score. Haverhill 7, Lowell 0.

Reed kicked off to Bowers to the 20 yard line. Bowers ran the ball up five yards. Snyder tried a forward pass which Reed intercepted in mid-field. Haverhill's ball. Messenger made 20 yards on a close run around right end. Gilroy hurried and Haverhill was penalized 15 yards for the breach of rules. Lowell was offside and Haverhill took the ball on Lowell's 25 yard line for the first down. Bowers was replaced by Libbey and Wilson replaced Roane. Messenger on a delayed pass, failed to gain. Corbett making a fine tackle. Gilroy and Messenger made first down on two plays directed at right tackle. The first period ended with the ball in Haverhill's possession on Lowell's seven yard line.

Reed kicked off to Bowers to the 20 yard line. Bowers ran the ball up five yards. Snyder tried a forward pass which Reed intercepted in mid-field. Haverhill's ball. Messenger made 20 yards on a close run around right end. Gilroy hurried and Haverhill was penalized 15 yards for the breach of rules. Lowell was offside and Haverhill took the ball on Lowell's 25 yard line for the first down. Bowers was replaced by Libbey and Wilson replaced Roane. Messenger on a delayed pass, failed to gain. Corbett making a fine tackle. Gilroy and Messenger made first down on two plays directed at right tackle. The first period ended with the ball in Haverhill's possession on Lowell's seven yard line.

Messenger made 20 yards on a close run around right end. Gilroy hurried and Haverhill was penalized 15 yards for the breach of rules. Lowell was offside and Haverhill took the ball on Lowell's 25 yard line for the first down. Bowers was replaced by Libbey and Wilson replaced Roane. Messenger on a delayed pass, failed to gain. Corbett making a fine tackle. Gilroy and Messenger made first down on two plays directed at right tackle. The first period ended with the ball in Haverhill's possession on Lowell's seven yard line.

Score at this stage, Haverhill 17, Lowell 0.

Second Period

Gilroy ran clear across the field in an attempt to circle the end but gained nothing. The Lowell line stiffened and held for two downs. They could not, however, stop Staples on Haverhill's fourth down. Staples just managed to cross the goal line for the touchdown, the second of the game. Gilroy again kicked the goal.

Brunelle received the kickoff between his goal posts and carried the ball ten yards before downed. Haverhill followed with an eight yard gain around the right wing. Brunelle, on a forward pass, was penalized. The game was held up while the officials examined Brunelle. He was allowed to continue. Haverhill offense, penalized five yards. Bennett punctuated Haverhill's center for 11 yards in two rushes. Brunelle followed with 229, the same as the fifth company, D of the Sixth, Company D is given the preference on account of seniority. Company K of Lowell stands 19th, with 560, the same as the 14th in the list again on the score of seniority. The ratings in this list are taken in the same manner as that for the regiments.

40 Yards For Touchdown

Cahill kicked to Haverhill's 25 yard line and Gilroy ran the leather back 25 yards by clever ducking. Gilroy attempted a forward pass which was incomplete. He tried another and Lowell captured the ball. Lowell's ball and the home team was twice penalized for offside playing. Cahill kicked a high spiral to Staples but the Haverhill quarterback was buried by an avalanche of Lowell players. Gilroy drew a pass to Whitmore which the latter fumbled. Gilroy shot a high 40 yards for a touchdown. Greene shook off Libbey on the 5 yard line. Gilroy, for the third time, kicked the goal.

Reed replaced Staples. Reed kicked to Snyder, who ran the ball up 15 yards to Lowell's 45 yard line. Snyder tried a forward pass which was incomplete. McManmon went in instead of Ferguson. Bennett made a gain through left tackle. On the fourth down Cahill kicked to Gilroy and the latter ran the ball back twenty yards to mid-field. The second period ended with the ball in Haverhill's possession in mid-field.

Score: Haverhill 21, Lowell 7.

Third Period

Vaughan, the Haverhill left guard, was taken out between the halves with a broken collar bone. He finished out the half without knowing how badly he was hurt. Reed kicked off to Brunelle who ran the ball back 20 yards cleverly eluding the skinned ears of the opposing team. Brunelle

BIG OPIUM RAID DIED SUDDENLY

Inspectors Arrest Portland Chinaman—Seize Quantity of Drug

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 22.—Wing Chin Tang, a Chinese grocer, was arrested here last night by inspectors from Boston, charged with the manufacture and sale of opium. The inspectors charge that the prisoner's store has been headquarters of the opium distributing trade in New England.

The raid was made by Customs Inspectors McKenna and Finnegan, who say they not only found the drug in actual process of manufacture, but seized also a quantity of opium, which they estimate to be worth $2000 or $3000.

When the officers visited the store they found eight Chinamen within and three of them were smoking the drug. Wing Chin was first arrested, but he soon quieted down and was taken into jail. He will be removed to Augusta today and arraigned before United States Commissioner Farrington, as the local commissioner is out of town.

The arrest of Wing Chin came as the result of an investigation which has taken over two years and has covered every section of New England. Despite the raids that were made in Boston and other places, opium kept appearing and Special Commissioner Carl H. Chandler of Boston and his assistants have been puzzled to learn the source of the supply.

SIXTH REG'T RATINGS

As Given Out From the Adjutant General's Office For Companies and Men

The following are the ratings of the Sixth Regiment, M. V. M., as given out from the adjutant general's office for the year 1912, and the same shows that Company G of this city is sixth in the list, while Company K stands in 19th place.

Lieutenant T. W. Doyle is 12th among the most lieutenants and Lieut. H. J. Patton, adjutant, is 13th. Lieut. S. R. Waller is the third of the second lieutenants, with C. Frank Dupree, (resigned), in 4th place.

The other Lowell companies and officers are not mentioned in the order. The regiment has 520 points out of a maximum and its nearest competitor is the First Corps Cadets, with 500. These ratings are figured on the tour of camp duty, armory work, enrollment, attendance and target work.

In the first 50 companies, Company G of Lowell stands sixth, with 229, the same as the fifth company, D of the Sixth, Company D is given the preference on account of seniority. Company K of Lowell stands 19th, with 560, the same as the 14th in the list again on the score of seniority. The ratings in this list are taken in the same manner as that for the regiments.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President and Mrs. Wilson are lending their assistance to a bazaar being held here for the benefit of the Starbuck aid for consumptives. It was learned today. Autographed photographs of the president were sent from the executive offices to be sold for the cause at a special booth in a downtown hotel while the thriving trade done by flower girls was found to be due to the fact that the blossoms were the contribution of Mrs. Wilson and had come from the White House conservatory. The bazaar will close tonight.

He was sentenced to life imprisonment. Before sentence was passed McDonald addressed the court for three-quarters of an hour, relating his life story. TRUST ABSORBS TRUST

George W. Whelan and some of his associates in the United Cigar Stores company have secured the control of the Riker-Hegeman company, the drug concern with nearly 100 stores in eastern cities. The Riker-Hegeman company controls the Riker-Jaynes company of Massachusetts, which has one of a chain of stores in Lowell. However, the manager of the local store when interviewed by the writer, said he did not know whether the local store was included in the deal or not, but he said it was the same company, only it is known under another name.

The amount of Riker-Hegeman stock bought up has not yet been announced, but it is believed to be close to half of all the company shares outstanding. Particulars of the transaction may be made public within a few days.

A director of the United Cigar Stores Co. said yesterday that it was planned to form a new company, which would act as a holding company for the United Cigar Stores and the Riker-Hegeman concerns. The new company will be capitalized as far as common stock is concerned at a figure which will approximately equal the combined capital of the two constituent companies.

Shares in the holding company will probably have a par value of $5 and the stock of the Cigar Stores and Riker-Hegeman organizations will be exchanged for the new stock on a basis of one share for 20.

On the curb the new shares were traded in today at prices ranging from $6.75 to $8 on a "when issued" basis. "The plan for issuing the new stock at a low parity," said the director who told of the deal, "was evolved for the purpose of permitting employees of both the cigar and drug companies to buy it and share in the profits."

At the next meeting of shareholders of the Riker-Hegeman company several directors probably will be elected to represent the new interests, and thereafter steps will be taken to bring both companies into harmonious sales relations.

Athletes and Athletics

It was an awful beating! Haverhill certainly did not lose any prestige yesterday by the manner in which its team worked. The members of the Haverhill team are all fighters to the last ditch as the fourth period demonstrated. Not content with giving the local team a tagging, they kept piling up the score by the touchdown route with untiring zeal. This is just the kind of football playing which goes to develop a championship eleven.

Coach Broderick of Haverhill is certainly one of the best. He is not one of the kid glove kind but gets after his eleven as though he was boxing a gang of dogs. Broderick deserves unqualified praise for the manner in which he has brought Haverhill to the fore of schoolboy football. Although rough in his coaching methods, the Haverhill coach is well-nigh worshipped by his players.

Danny Brunelle can take his place beside any prep school back and not lose by comparison. His remarkable showing yesterday was all the more marvelous when the fact is taken into account that Brunelle was behind a much inferior team. When he broke through for his touchdown his interference had been spotted and he was running alone. In broken field the entire Haverhill team could not stop him before he crossed their goal line.

The big game today may develop into a goal kicking contest between Brickley and Guernsey. The manner in which Howard Jones has been bringing the latter along of late would point toward an attempt to win the game by the drop kick route. While the Yale man is good, he will have to show a wonderful toe to outscore the Harvard wizard.

The Walpole street grounds are being remodeled this season by the Boston Nationals. Manager Stallings expects to draw as large, if not larger, than the Red Sox next season and the former capacity was only in the neighborhood of 16,000. An attempt was made to secure a new location for a ball park but it was unsuccessful.

President James Gaffney was yesterday re-elected to the head of the Boston National League club. Mr. Gaffney has proven himself a big factor in pushing the team up to its present position. He will spend money with a free hand when a good player is in the balance, and is just the sort of man who will make the game pay.

Gilbert Gallant and Grover Hayes were rematched yesterday afternoon. The bout will take place on December 9 at Westfield. Gallant rather surprised the fans by handling out a bad beating to the clever Philadelphia boxer in their last meeting and intends to repeat.

Jack Coombs will be in the game next season according to the statements made by his doctors yesterday. Coombs will be 1-16 of an inch shorter when he leaves the hospital than he was when he first took his bed. The injury to his spine has caused it to shrink, so the medical experts say. Anyhow, Jack will be twisting again so his loss in height won't bother him much.

then lost ten yards on an attempted run. Cahill kicked to Messenger who nailed in his tracks. Reed got one yard through center. Gilroy kicked off six more through left tackle. Staples hit center for a gain that brought Haverhill to first down. Gilroy made four and Messenger 5 through tackle. Reed made first down on a cleverly executed delayed pass. Reed shook off several tacklers and carried the ball to Lowell's 18 yard line. Messenger was tackled in the head and right knee during the play and time was called.

nett got four yards through right tackle. Cahill kicked to the middle of the field. Messenger ploughed the line for three yards.

Messenger broke through left tackle and ran 52 yards to Lowell's goal line. Haverhill was offside and the ball was called back. Reed kicked to Snyder who signaled for a fair catch. Cahill kicked on the first down. Gilroy tried a forward pass but it was incomplete. Gilroy circled left end for an 18 yard gain and Messenger slammed center for eight more. The ball was on Low-roy on a skin tackle play went 15 yards.

Reed failed to gain at center. Greene scored a touchdown on a tackle play through the right side of the line. Gilroy kicked the goal.

Score: Haverhill 48, Lowell 7. Segal kicked off to Brunelle and the latter ran it back 20 yards. He was thrown hard and fumbled. Haverhill recovered the ball and started on their way to another touchdown.

On a fake formation Reed broke through center for a touchdown. Gilroy failed to kick the goal. Score: Haverhill 54, Lowell 7.

Messenger resumed his position at left half back. Reed hit center for five yards. Gilroy carried the ball to Lowell's three yard line. Reed failed to gain and Messenger then scored Haverhill's fourth touchdown. Score: Haverhill 54, Lowell 7.

Segal again kicked off and Libbey received the ball behind his own goal line. Libbey ran the ball back 23 yards. Cahill went back to kick and on a fake kick formation, Bennett got a four yard gain before being thrown. Libbey added two more. Lowell was penalized because her backs started ahead of the ball. Cahill punted out of bounds on his own 40 yard line. Gilroy made four yards at left tackle and then failed to gain on an end run. Mochee made the tackle and was hurt. Donahue replaced him. Gilroy attempted a forward pass which was incomplete. It was then Lowell's ball. Lowell fumbled on the first play and Greene, snatching up the ball, carried it across the Lowell goal line for another touchdown. Gilroy failed this time to kick the goal. Score: Haverhill 61, Lowell 7.

Segal kicked off to Snyder, who ran the ball back to his 24 yard line. Bennett got three yards at center and then six more in the same place. Gilroy carried it to the 20 yard line. Haverhill tried a forward pass which was incomplete.

A forward pass to the Haverhill right end netted 23 yards. Two more plunges resulted in a three yard gain.

Messenger ran clear across the field but did not gain. Reane made a line tackle. The ball was on Lowell 35 yard line in Haverhill's possession when the game ended.

LEONARD, MIDGET GRIDIRON

STAR, MAY BEAT THE ARMY

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—In spite of the Navy's boast that their team is the heaviest in years the chances are that the lightest man on either team will be their star player in the annual set-to with the Army. His name is Leonard.

Blodgett, one of the first year men, has shown great promise as a kicker and may alternate with Leonard in that capacity.

PRESIDENT OF BRVES
BOSTON, Nov. 22.—James E. Gaffney of New York was re-elected president of the Boston National league baseball club yesterday. Plans for the removal of the grounds to another part of the city have been abandoned, and it was voted to erect a new grandstand. This will involve an extension of the present grounds, and may increase the area of the playing field.

Pollard's Team Wins
Seven-Man Contest—
Factory Teams at it

Team One of the Lawrence Manufacturing league defeated their rivals, Team Two in a fast contest last night. Each team was composed of three men. The final score was 751 to 763.

A picked team from the Cloth room of the Massachusetts mill defeated the Electric Shop team of the same factory. The Cloth room took the second and third strings, winning the match by the score of 1369 to 1295. Bruerge rolled the high single of 166. The Saco-Loell quintet outrolled the Lamson Rapids in a very close match game. The Lamson team won their game in the last string. Proux, Sharpe and Humphreys each rolled a string of 100. BOOKS FOR FOREIGNERS

The ready patronage of the Polish people of Lowell for the books in their native language recently introduced into the city library, demonstrates forcibly the great interest for good which this municipal institution is enabled to exercise among all the foreign communities among us. Owing to the happy thought of someone possessed of far seeing common sense, 100 books in the Polish language were purchased, and in one month the circulation reached 400. Over 100 Poles took out library cards. Comparing the relative size of the Polish community and the city generally, it is evident that these people have a great desire to learn. It is also worthy of note that the books most patronized were not of the lighter fiction variety, but books calculated to educate and refine the reader, such as works on history and poetry.

It is hoped that in the near future the city library will add to its list of Polish books and keep the example of the eager patronage of this group in mind when considering the wants of other foreign peoples among us. Immigrants who come here from practically all foreign lands develop a love for their native country, language and customs, fostered and intensified by distance. This regard for what is best in the strain from which they spring should be respected and encouraged, for it is ennobling and one of the ways by which it can be encouraged is by giving them books written by their native authors and in their native tongue. They should not neglect the study of English and the reading of things relating to America and things American for to do this would tend to arrest their development. Their children will attend our schools and learn to appreciate books written in English, but it must be apparent to all that if many immigrants who are here do not read books in their own language, they will read no books. Together with the example of the Polish people, a valuable object lesson was given many times during the recent Balkan war by the animated and eager groups of Greeks that surrounded the windows of little stores in their quarter in which bulletins and pictures of the war were displayed. If these people were given good books in their native tongue and on subjects dear to them the elevating effect would be as beneficial as it would be immediate.

THE ART OF SELLING

A contemporary dealing with the value of newspaper advertising as compared with the description of goods often given by clerks and salesmen says wisely: "When the merchant talks to the public through the newspaper advertisement he can say just what he wants to say, just what he would say if he could wait on all his customers at the same time. The advertisement enables him to tell the whole story where the clerk may give but half." It is very true and very well said, and aside from its convincing argument on the relative advantage of advertising, it reminds us indirectly of the fact that selling is a fine art and an art worthy of deep study.

Professor Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard recently called attention to the psychological side of the subject and showed how even the sight of a pencil and pad at the right moment might induce a wavering customer to buy. Certain it is that a glum expression and discourtesy on the part of the clerk do not help to make sales. There are two sides to the question certainly and we all know a few people that would tax the patience and sweetness of an angel, but still salesmen and saleswomen should remember that a sale often depends as much on their tact as on the intrinsic merit of the article being marketed. The clerk that smiles when taking down the 12th roll of cotton for the critical inspection of an eccentric old lady who intended to buy half a yard but finally decided to purchase elsewhere, will probably succeed in business when an ungracious clerk who offends customers continually will be vainly looking for a position.

On the other hand it is too true that many people who wear a superficial gloss of good manners in social life, display repulsive rudeness when dealing with clerks in stores or elsewhere. They seem to feel that the fact of their being able to command the services of the socially inferior gives them liberty to indulge in rudeness. If clerks who must serve such sensible they will ignore the ignorant assumption of the customer, remembering that no more accidents of dress or manner or station will make a lady or gentleman.

MERRIMACK SQUARE LIGHTS

There is no need of argument in favor of the better lighting of Merrimack square, for its unsatisfactory condition on these occasions when the places of business in the vicinity are closed was argument sufficiently strong to convince anyone with a vestige of civility that the lighting system in this most important part of the city has

LAND PROMOTERS INDICTED

Once again we are reminded that a considerable number of the people in this world are interested mostly in getting away with the money of "easy marks," by the indictment of the officials of the Florida Fruit Lands company by the federal government for selling tracts of land in the famous Everglades district. Over $2,000,000 was involved in the sales contracts and of this it is said that about $700,000 has already been paid to the company by about 12,000 purchasers. Some of the purchasers found their wonderfully described tracts entirely under water and they had to procure boats to reach the speculator's paradise. Not all the literature of the Everglades boomers made victims, for we have known of very pretty pamphlets that went into waste baskets promptly, but undoubtedly there are a few victims locally. When outside interests come here and get hold of the business opportunities under our eyes it is a pretty sure indication that too many of our citizens are interested in the green hills far away, or in the swamps of Florida where so many have figuratively sunk.

ABOUT PUBLIC MARKETS

Public and municipal markets have been found beneficial in many cities of more or less importance, but there are some cases where their establishment has proved disappointing to their warmest supporters, not because they were not as represented in their effects, but because the public refused or neglected to avail of them. We can all picture the old fashioned woman who went to market with her large basket, but some say with apparent conviction that she is a vanished type that cannot be revived. Public markets even with reduced rates for commodities of life are forced to compete with stores that give free delivery and have telephone service. The result has been disastrous to the public market in some cases, because people would not make an effort to avail of their advantages and preferred to pay more rather than go where prices were lower. If prices go much higher, however, it is probable that those whose laziness gets the better of their common sense would deeply regret their lack of interest in what concerns them so vitally.

PENNSYLVANIA LABOR LAW

Pennsylvania is facing the same problems with its new women's employment law which Massachusetts has faced—and conquered, if not solved—as a result of the minors' law passed by the last legislature. There is a 54-hour week and 10 hour day with a six day week have meant loss to many women, especially those who work in hotels and hotel men are quoted to have said that the new law will necessitate the hiring of extra help with a consequent reduction in wages. Possibly the objections to the new law, like that here to the minors' law, is due to temporary hardship rather than to any lasting inconvenience, and there will be an honest attempt to live up to it in spirit and in letter. As with humanitarian laws generally, the Pennsylvania law is neither popular with the class which it is meant to benefit nor those at whose alleged greed it is aimed.

THE SPELLBINDER

When I consented to deal especially with politics and politicians in this column, I did not anticipate any rival contributors, but I am surprised to find "Lady Lookabout" and "The Man in the Moon" calmly trespassing on my domain. As Lady Lookabout appears to be a strong woman suffragist—I do not mean a militant—I presume she considers it a duty to present the woman's view of such political upheavals as we have had at the primaries, although I believe that the people in general are tired of the whole business. However, if this be her aim, I have no objection for I am of the opinion that if women could vote, they would soon banish the campaign liar who is the chief cause of all our trouble at elections. I would suggest, however, that "Lady Lookabout" give the readers of The Sun her views on the honest mill girl who had a husband, or on that other equally important problem, how the young man who earns average wages in the mills, can support a wife and family.

As to the "Man in the Moon," I suppose it is his province to look down upon all sublimity things, politics included, and I notice that he is not a stranger to the schemes by which some of the "poles" undertake to fool the people, and yet I would rather hear him talk upon the fine arts—music, art, literature or the drama, on which I believe he is an authority.

The French American Vote

Through all the turmoil of street corner arguments and from the long array of candidates the voters of Lowell picked a municipal ticket that might very easily have been worse. The remarkable feature of the result was the large vote given Dr. Mignault through the solidification of the French-American vote. Although Dr. Mignault was not nominated, the vote he received, taken in conjunction with the attitude of the French voters in the city, is an indication that this progressive body of citizens, has resolved that they will hereafter have a representation in the city government. That is a perfectly reasonable demand considering their numbers, their intelligence and the amount of taxes they pay. The time is not far distant when a French American citizen will be the chief executive of our city.

Mr. Cummings' Defeat

Could anybody fail to notice the wave of sympathy that went out to Alderman Lawrence Cummings when it was announced through the press that he failed to get a nomination? In this case it is to be regretted that the many good things that are now being said about Alderman Cummings, were left unsaid until he was defeated. It appears that when a man is in office and a number of candidates want his place, they are unwilling to admit that he has done anything praiseworthy while they take up his mistakes, if any, and magnify them a hundred fold. If they cannot find any official blunders in his record, they do not scruple in making charges that are absolutely false in order to bring about his defeat. This lack of appreciation is apparent outside the sphere of politics, for it often happens that a good man goes through the world without a word of commendation, almost friendless it would appear, but when he dies we hear a general chorus of "Oshad and Ahad" and "What a pity! 'Was he not a fine man?" "When shall we see his like again?" When you hear such expressions from those who, until then were unwilling to even admit the man's merits, don't you feel like exclaiming, O ye hypocrites!

Change Only for the Better

In the campaign that must precede the city election it will be well for the voter to remember that the men in office will be assisted only in their efforts to bring about their opponents' flaws will be picked and ulterior motives attributed wherever a wrong construction can be placed upon their actions; but the citizen who wants good government should go slow when asked to displace an official who has done well and one who has the ability to make scurrilous attacks to which he himself may be more vulnerable than the man he assails. As I remarked in this column before the primaries, it is unwise to make a change unless you are quite sure that the change will be for the better.

Congressman Gardner's Ambition

And now it comes to light that Congressman Gardner in running for governor of Massachusetts was aiming at something higher, to wit, the nomination for president in 1916. If that was his game he got gloriously left and there is not the slightest probability of any better luck next year. Yet Mr. Gardner says he will resign his seat in congress to run for governor next year. He imagines that he can reunite the party so that progressives and old liners will combine to elect him. This kind of talk from a candidate who made such a poor showing in the recent election sounds rather fishy. The only coalition practicable between progressives and republicans is one in which the latter will go into the enemy's camp and support a progressive ticket. Mr. Gardner is counting on the extinction of the progressive party in this state and its return to its former allegiance to support his candidacy and help to boost his presidential hopes. I believe that Mr. Gardner shows poor judgment in any such assumption because he has proved anything but a harmonizer and as for a presidential candidate, I believe he is foolish to let any such ambition turn his head.

The Coming Campaign

It is very evident that the only hope of defeating Mayor O'Donnell in the coming campaign is based upon the charges brought against his administration of the police department. It is impossible to conduct any department of the kind without having some men disgruntled over appointments, the assignment of beats or some other cause. There are men patrolling beats in a very indifferent manner who believe they should be sergeants or lieutenants and who for this reason have a grievance against the mayor. They are running to the underground newspapers with stories of ill-treatment at the hands of the mayor and even charging that they are powerless to enforce the traffic regulations. The men who make such charges are soreheads trying to make trouble instead of attending to their business. The officer who tells the newspapers in great secrecy that he has not the power to enforce the law is a faker who blames his superior officers when the fault is wholly his own.

Still charges of this kind and many others equally unworthy, will doubtless be magnified into vast proportions in the coming campaign in order, if possible, to injure Mayor O'Donnell in the eyes of the public. While it is perfectly right and proper to criticize any public official on his record, the voters should beware of charges that are trumped up for election purposes only. The charges made by a man who suddenly turns reformer when he sees a chance of election to office should be taken with caution as the motive is selfish rather than for the public good.

Leaders of the Past

The citizen who resided here twenty or 25 years ago must marvel at the vastly different method of conducting present day political campaigns. At that time torchlight parades were very frequent, especially in state and presidential contests. Uniformed companies were organized in the different cities and when a rally was being held in any city, such for example as Lowell, the companies from Lawrence, Haverhill, and sometimes from Boston, came here in great force and made a most magnificent turnout in torchlight processions. Then the great orators obtainable, very often men of national reputation, would be on hand to address the voters so that the enthusiasm reached the highest possible pitch. When we think of the change from men like Hon. Frederick T. Greenhalge, Hon. Charles A. Stott, Hon. George F. Richardson, Hon. Wm. F. Courtney, Hon. John J. Donovan, Lawrence J. Smith, and many others, to the class of "orators" who now unmake to guide and counsel the people, the transition seems to have come from the sublime to the ridiculous. We still have left a few fairly good speakers but in view of the prevailing custom of street corner speech-making, they seldom come out to give the people the benefit of their advice.

With the single exception of Mr. O'Brien we have no man, lay or clerical, who can come out on occasions of great popular excitement to sway the public mind as could the illustrious Greenhalge, the lamented Fr. Garin, the beloved Fr. McGrath, the calm but courageous Fr. O'Brien, the widely beloved Fr. Edson and his successor, Rev. Dr. Chambré. Of this class, but more retiring than any of them, Mr. O'Brien alone remains.

DEATH HOLDS UP PROBE

JOHN H. MARBLE, MEMBER OF INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION, DIED SUDDENLY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—John H. Marble, a member of the Interstate commerce commission, died here last night, following an attack of acute indigestion by which he was stricken in Philadelphia.

Commissioner Marble was seized with an acute attack of indigestion Wednesday and was unable to leave his bed yesterday morning. Consequently the interstate commerce commission's investigation into the rates and practices of the anthracite coal carrying railroads which he was conducting in Philadelphia, was adjourned indefinitely.

At first it was believed that Mr. Marble's illness was only of a temporary nature and that he would be on his feet again in a few days. The expected improvement did not come, however, and the commissioner returned to Washington.

BACKACHE IS A DANGER SIGNAL

Kidney Troubles, Bladder Disorders, Rheumatism, and Serious Diseases Follow.

The kidneys get clogged up, the same as the bowels do. Then they become sluggish, and only filter or strain out a part of the waste or poisonous matter, all the rest remaining in the blood and poisoning the system.

As soon as you notice the first indications of backache, pains in the sides, or aches around the kidneys, or if the urine is light and pale, dark colored, cloudy, thick, or has an offensive odor, burns, is scalding or irregular in passage, take a little Croxone three times a day and end these troubles before they become more serious.

SUES FOR $49,000

Sackett Says He Settled Senator Stephenson's Campaign Claims and Helped Him in Investigation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Senator Isaac Stephenson of Wisconsin was sued for $49,000 in the district court here yesterday by Rodney Sackett, a former executive clerk of the senate, who alleges Stephenson employed him to settle claims arising from his campaign of 1908.

Sackett also alleges that he rendered important aid in the defense by Senator Stephenson when the senate investigated his right to a seat in that body in 1911. He says he was constantly in touch with the senator's witnesses, "refreshing their memories" and rendering other services of value because of his intimate knowledge with the facts about the campaign.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

The month of November doesn't usually furnish such a display of areas of green grass as can now be seen wherever we wander at home and abroad. She has put forth her many fine days just of the quality to make long walks in the country more than a delight, and hoping to flatter her into granting many more. I'll tell her that already she has shown qualities superior to those granted by her late dying sister, October. Just now the days are like Indian summer, so much so as to almost risk saying that it may be the beginning of them, although it is rather early for these days, so full of charm and mystery. No matter how much scientists may differ regarding the phenomenon, or what accounts for the smoky and hazy appearance of hill and forest, no matter if practical theories cast discredit and cold water upon the poet's dreams or not, we don't care—the days are charming, we get a taste of summer without the bees and the birds and baseball, without foliage and flowers and without dryness or dust. Who cares sadness and feels melancholy these days is too impressionable to live long. The Indians have a belief that when for a few weeks in late November and early December their god of the west wind put on a soft, warm-toned pedal he was telling his children to get ready for the winter whose "long black line" even then might flow on the northern horizon. We might as well believe that as anything else, yet we are instructed that these "warm" spells which we have more or less at this time of year are due to a change in the upper strata of the atmosphere which confines the radiating heat-rays in the lower strata. Perhaps they are right about it.

Primary Reflections
Now that the primaries are over, let us cheer up and be not cast down because many of our friends are "losers." Looking over the successful candidates I must say they form a pretty good lot to choose from. As usual there were many surprises and the regular army of cock-sure names of winners still have another chance to make good and with less odds. Considering the array of competing candidates the mayor's vote was a handsome one, while the surprising vote of Dr. Mignault made Mr. Murphy's friends sit up and worry until the last precinct vote was counted. John O'Connell, too, can feel complimented and proud, while "Jim" McKelvey may live to fight another day. Dr. McCarty gained 19 votes over his vote of 1911, which shows that he's gaining anyway. It is really good to see Squire Carmichael on the older-man ticket again. It reminds us of old times, but there will be a different kind of a fight, now that the office carries a salary. Personally, I feel much regret at the defeat of Alderman Cummings for he always appealed to me as a type of the men needed in public service. I find that there is general regret, too.

The contest between the mayor and Mr. Murphy promises to be not only lively but very interesting as well. Let us have a good clean fight, no hitting down, no hitting below the belt, no brass knuckles, no red pepper, no throwing of mud and bricks, and no kicking.

Wife Beater Beaten
While walking through a certain street recently I saw a man, some distance up the street, administering cuffs and punches to a woman, probably his wife—it is usually the case. Before I could get near enough to enter a protest, a small-sized man stepped up to the cuffer and after what was apparently a wordy war, proceeded to hand out a few straight arm wallops, a couple of hooks, and one good uppercut that rolled the first named gent into the gutter.

As I drew near the small-sized man eyed me anxiously thinking I might be a plain-clothes cop, but I hastened to reassure him by congratulating him cordially for his prompt and clean-cut work.

When in Boston
Should you ever go to Boston and wish to get anywhere don't ask questions, don't attempt to learn anything from signs and notices, but work out your own salvation. "It may cost you extra time and extra nickels but what you learn yourself you'll know for ever after or until the next big mix-up takes place. It has been my experience to receive more misinformation from untrained officials than from any other source. For instance it was 12 o'clock at the South Station. Asking what time and which track the next train left for a suburban town I received: "1:20—Track 9." The train left at 12:27 from track 11. What's a feller to do? Keep cool and find out things. Don't spit on the sidewalk nor throw banana skins anywhere—eat 'em first when you're in Boston.

Draught Taxes and Tax Dodgers
The town of Draught which has given so strong evidence of the pay-as-you-go policy as to make permanent improvements and pay for them out of one-year's taxes, enjoys a tax-rate of nearly $100 on the thousand. The funny part of it is you don't hear much of any protest from the mouths of the hard-fisted farmers and others. Yet some of them have been forced to sell some of their belongings in order to pay that tax. I think they are so used to the good roads which they have built, as to be proud of their high tax-rate. The old taxes have built some good roads and has paid for them, too, "by-gone." What do you think the people of Lowell would do, should the municipal council coming in in January vote to build a bridge at Pawtucket falls, to build a $500,000 street car line, and put Palmer street through, spend $100,000 on parks and commons, and all to be paid for from the tax-levy of 1914? Do? Why, they wouldn't do a thing! The supply of Draught is a good one, that is, the water is better than we are getting. In fact, the water is fine and the people of Draught pay for their water. I hear that many don't pay yet nobly shut off their supply. I heard the head of one family say that he had a good official who he should pay for his water, while his next door neighbor wasn't obliged to, that he was answered in good old Pennsylvania Dutch that it was no use, in talking, you can't make 'em pay—you must carry that's all there is about it. So with water taxes and water rates some people in Draught, paying 30 old dollars per thousand and many others are dodging both.

The New Dances
There's a lot said and written about those new dances, the tango, the turkey trot and bunny hug. Since I never have danced any of them the Man in the Moon is hardly qualified to pass upon their morality or immorality. Yet there are other forms of dances in which a man and woman whirl around the ball clasped in each other's arms and they are perfectly allowable, perfectly proper and no questions asked. The waltz is a beautiful expression of the poetry of music, and waltz music is ever the most beautiful of all music of the dance. There has been a lot of opposition to the waltz and is yet, but you can't legislate it out of existence. Neither can you the tango, the turkey trot and the bunny hug. You have read Lord Byron's criticism of the waltz. A good many thought that that poem entitled him to a seat in Paradise. But the world waits on; and, believe me, it will tango on, turkey trot on, and bunny hug on so long as youth must be served and novelty fed.

FEDERAL SUIT

McReynolds Waits to Give New Haven a Chance, Says Walsh

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—It is the prevailing opinion in the federal department of justice that the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company will not agree to a solution of the New England railroad problem that will conform to the demands of Atty.-Gen. McReynolds. The expectation is that the attorney general will institute a suit against the corporation to compel that corporation to relinquish control of the Boston & Maine railroad, the steamship and the trolley companies.

A dissolution proceeding similar to that brought against the Union Pacific Railroad to accomplish the separation of the Southern Pacific Company is contemplated. Atty.-Gen. McReynolds is ready to make a move against the New Haven, and is only waiting to give Fred Howard Elliot time to persuade the directors to comply with what he has been told are the wishes of the chief law officer of the federal government. This is the news that Gov.-Elect David I. Walsh brought from Washington yesterday.

"Atty. Gen. McReynolds is prepared to proceed against the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad," said the governor-elect last night. "He is ready to move, but his disposition is to give the new management an opportunity to define its policy, the attorney general is waiting until he ascertains what the New Haven is willing to do voluntarily, to clear the situation in New England."

"That was the impression I received in Washington after talking over the railroad situation with the attorney general. I am not at liberty to disclose the views of the attorney general, but I may say that he has a very comprehensive understanding of all railroad conditions in New England."

"Atty. Gen. McReynolds has gone over the report of his special investigators of the New Haven and Boston & Maine systems very carefully and he has formed definite ideas of what he wants to do. He is prepared to take the steps which he is convinced the circumstances demand in order to enforce the law, and if the directors do not act very soon he will begin proceedings."

Offered Help to Walsh
"Atty. Gen. McReynolds was kind enough to give me a great deal of the confidential information contained in the report of the special counsel for the government and to communicate to me their conclusions and his. I was not so much interested in what the attorney general proposed to do as I was in suggestions of legislation which I might recommend in order to carry out the wishes of the platform on which I and the other democratic candidates were elected."

"I took the liberty of telling the attorney general that I desired to assist him by advising the passage of laws that would aid in a solution of our railroad problem. He told me that he would be glad to help me with all the information he had."

Mill Firemen of Fall River Want More Pay by December

FALL RIVER, Nov. 22.—The mill firemen of the city joined the textile manufacturers' association in demanding of the mill owners an increase in wages of 12 1/2 per cent, to become effective December 8. The demand is extended also to include every manufacturing plant in the city employing union firemen. "MONEY GRUBBERS' WAR"

LONDON PAPER PUBLISHES A BITTER ARTICLE ON THE MEXICAN SITUATION

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Under the heading "A Money Grubbers' War" the Outlook today publishes a bitter article on the Mexican situation. "Across the Atlantic," the Outlook says: "There is in busy preparation, if certain forces can accomplish it, a crime against civilization, against humanity. At any moment we may hear of its first overt stages, with inevitably the ensuing slaughter of tens of thousands of young Americans and half-breed Mexicans, the devastation of humble towns and rude country villages, the sufferings of the helpless and the innocent and the outpouring of millions of money."

"And all for what or for whom? Wars have been waged for military ambition, but who is Napoleon of the United States? The war has been due to the colonial expansion, but half the states are sparsely populated; and they have been fought for liberty—and what have we seen lately sheltering under this claim?"

But there is no pretense of this or of any of the historic reasons here. A war between the United States and Mexico if it arises, will be the first war waged solely for private greed—the first money grubbers' war.

"If the guides of American opinion, among whom we refrain from mentioning names, the article says in conclusion, 'if the money-grubbers of the United States, in a few weeks, perhaps days, Jim Smith of Virginia will be cutting the throat of Leon Rodriguez of Mexico in the sacred name of the oil trusts and the band of Wall Street hyenas.'"

CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL COMMITTEE SAYS TWO OLD PARTIES WILL FIGHT IN 1916

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, after a conference yesterday with President Wilson, announced that he believed the republican party would be the chief contender with the democratic party for the presidency in 1916.

"The recent elections," said Mr. McCombs, "have served to strengthen a conviction I have had since the last national election that much of the progressive party would be absorbed either by the democratic or republican parties and that the next national political conflict would find the republican party the principal opponent of the democracy."

MYSTIC NOBLES OF GRANADA

Great Gathering and Banquet of Members of the Order in Boston Sunday

The members of Lowell Caravan, Mystic Nobles of Granada, will participate in the monster meeting of members of the order from all over New England to be held in Horticultural hall, Huntington and Massachusetts avenues, Boston, tomorrow afternoon, constituting the greatest gathering of nobles under one roof since the inception of the organization. From Lowell over 100 members will attend, leaving here on the 12.10 train, arriving in Boston about 1.20, where they will proceed to the hall. A special train will be run from Providence, R. I., carrying over 600 members, while from Bridgeport, Conn., New Haven, Conn., Worcester, Springfield, Lynn, Portland, Me., Nashua, N. H., and Brattleboro, Vt., will come members for the elaborate plans in preparation for the degree work, and the banquet that is to follow, indicate that while it will be the last gathering of kind this year, it will also be the greatest. Grand Monarch Walter Hickey of the local caravan states that such extraordinary plans have been made by the supreme officers for the entertainment of the Lowell members, that he confidently expects every man to avail himself of the privilege of witnessing the brilliant ceremonies. The banquet at 5 o'clock, it is said, will be the most elaborate spread ever served an organization in Boston.

Grand Monarch Walter H. Hickey attended a meeting in Deacon hall, Boston, last evening, at which balloting for candidates for admission into the order took place. Over 300 candidates are to be initiated tomorrow at the meeting in Horticultural hall, and Mr. Hickey states that no expense has been spared to make the affair a brilliant success.

LADY LOOKABOUT

Now that the primaries are over and the lists have been cut down to two for each office, let us hope that the month of November days is over and the men who are now candidates will complete their campaigns in a sane and manly manner, let us hope they will not treat each common-place trifle in another's administration as exceptional. The demand for dignified and equitable conduct in the course of the election of things and all sense of proportion is lost. If you do not believe this, let your mind travel back over ten years, or even five, and review the burning issues of those days, over which you exulted loudly, and lapidarily ask yourself how few have proved really epoch-making, either nationally or individually.

It must be mortifying to the sense of self-importance of many who are even yet with us, to recall how excited and worried they were over things which after all signify little. Another feature well to bear in mind is that human nature at best is a flimsy quantity. If some of the campaign orators would recall this when they are exclaiming loudly against the weakness and frailties of a brother competitor, and realizing that sympathy ever with the underdog, when justice is not, a new era in campaigning would dawn among us.

Every day I pass a little cottage, white, with a tiny lawn about it and surrounded by a picket fence. Ever gurgling about it, bespeaks extreme nervousness and a good housekeeper. But in the parlor window, on a small round table placed so it may be readily seen from the street, is a wine set of pale red glass, six little inverted glasses and a decanter. I haven't a doubt the set was a wedding-gift, and I suppose the bride brought it much too lovingly to be credited with the more plebeian ways of her dining room, hence the place of honor in the parlor window. I know of a house where the parlor cabinet supports a silver tea service that is never used.

That within each of the housekeepers which causes her to find beauty in these articles—that sense of the aesthetic, untrained though it may be, is one of the most desirable traits a person can have. The power—the gift, I may say, of seeing beauty in a commonplace object, smooths many of the hard places of life and often takes the drudgery from uninteresting and homely tasks. Perhaps the children of these homes with the present-day training of our schools, will gradually come to discern these incongruities and unconsciously they will reach out and correct them.

A number of times of late, it has been borne upon me that we have among us a newly-created class of materialists. I refer to the operators of player pianos. It is not an uncommon occurrence in passing through a street in Lowell or in the suburbs, to hear in homes after home, selections from the best composers, and one can admit that in time this condition must raise the standard of music.

The popularity of these instruments lies in the fact that the performer need not be educated in piano-playing, thus avoiding the endless drudgery of practicing. Unfortunately, the fact that a long apprenticeship to the piano brings to the student a discrimination and an understanding of music is overlooked. Even when the pianist is not become a player in the true sense of the word, he cannot avoid acquiring an appreciation and a knowledge of music which is often painfully absent in the operator of the automatic instrument.

To be sure, on the perforated rolls, tempo, accent, and other signs of expression are indicated, but the performer is often innocent of all knowledge of musical technique, and the result is too often nerve-racking to his audience.

I am quite sure that if some of the music teachers about town included in their advertisements, training for automate players, the course would prove popular.

All who can should avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing and hearing Miss Helen Keller who is to be at the First Universalist church, Third street, Monday evening, November 24th. Miss Keller represents the progress of education over apparently insurmountable obstacles. Deaf, dumb and blind from infancy, she has been taught to read and to speak with a degree of success that is marvelous.

Great credit is due the committee on entertainment for bringing this wonderful person to Lowell, and for giving the public an opportunity to meet her.

Of all the maddening observations I hear in the course of a day, the one which exasperates me the most is "Louden me!" I stand on the street corner waiting for a car. A man thinking he hears the car coming dashes around the corner and all but topples me over. He lifts his hat and mutters "Louden me!" and it is supposed to act on my flurried dignity as a tonic and revive me. I heard the car, I was waiting for my foot. Again "Louden me!" and I am expected to smile foolishly. My neighbor in the car is reading the morning paper. He sprawls it across my face, his hand just where it could hit it with ease. I don't like it though—I deeply withdraw a bit. "Louden me!" he artlessly continues to sprawl across me. I ring for the elevator. A person crowds me to enter first. She looks at me triumphantly, and again I hear those despised words, "Louden me!" and so on through the day. I'm sure I hear it fifty times in the course of eight hours. Do you wonder that I find it annoying? Often when I hear it I am unaware that any offense has been committed. I wonder when my pet corn has been rubbed or I have been made the center of a foot-ball rush, or I have been made the victim of some other unforgivable crime. I stand aghast at the impertinence of the person who thinks that my sympathy accounts with me by calling "Louden me!"

To me it is the most insane expression in the English language, and I wonder that some clever satirist has not already seen in it a theme for a poem or a photo-play. It's use is so universal that I am sure others must feel toward it as I do.

"When I was a girl"—so many many times I have heard it from my dear mother's lips that I almost hear the long silent voice of my mother as I stand before my long mirror attempting the fashionable insouciance of pose.

My mother always prefaced a criticism of present day standards with this remark. Very true with its mild emphasis on the I bespeak a gentle displeasure which often made me feel a keen lack of sympathy with those perfect girls who flourished a generation before mine, and who I fear pray to be hushed in the old adage, "The good die young."

Now the years have piled themselves on top of my own girlhood, and I in turn can look back a generation to the days of my own youth, and often when I see the extremes of fashion to which my own maidens permit themselves to be carried, I feel strongly tempted to quote my mother's phrase.

To return to the fashionable insouciance of pose—where I found the text for my family—here it is just as recognized as an authority on matters referring to women's styles. Chest sunken, shoulders drooping, high forehead, head slightly forward, the weight on one foot. My poor mother! After the many years she spent trying to teach me to keep my hips back, my shoulders straight and square, each foot, the direct opposite of what is now considered correct. It recalls the old-time Delaune system of physical culture. I shall be very much interested to see just how far Lowell girls will be interested in this page.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Chief honors went to foreigners in the feature event of the afternoon program of the national horse show at Madison Square Garden yesterday—the trial of hunters over the water jump, a leap at first of 15 feet and finally widened to 15 feet. TO DEFY ORDINANCE

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT DECLARES IT WILL NOT SUBMIT TO CONTROL OF MAIL TRUCKS

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The right of the United States government to operate its mail trucks in city streets regardless of speed restrictions was defended yesterday by Joseph Stewart, second assistant postmaster general, before the Aldermanic committee appointed to consider an ordinance withdrawing the mail trucks from the class of vehicles now exempt from speed control. Nearly a score of persons have been killed by mail carrying automobiles in the city this year.

Any interference which would result from a changed condition which would prevent the making of mail delivery with the business of the United States, Mr. Stewart told the committee.

shall continue to transport the mail through the streets of this city in accordance with what I consider to be my duty and the rights of the United States. The streets are most roads of the United States and they may be used by the government to transport its mails."

Mr. Stewart said he would discharge any chauffeur who drove recklessly, in reply to allegations that chauffeurs drive at excessive speed, he said the schedule calls for from 9 to 12 miles an hour and he doubted if they ever went as fast as 15.

The committee deferred action of the ordinance. It is expected that it will be reported favorably.

A.F. OF L. ELECTS OFFICERS

The Final Day of Convention at Seattle, Wash.—Resolution for Copper Co. Investigation

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The final day of the American Federation of Labor convention opened with the report of the committee on resolutions requesting a federal investigation of charges that several Michigan copper companies obtained possession of land illegally. A resolution disposing of the split in the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers recommended reference to the executive council.

The election of officers was held for three o'clock this afternoon. It makes the engrossing topic. Second Vice-President John Mitchell said a year ago that he wished to retire from office. When he arrived in Seattle to attend the presentation he learned that a combination of conservatives had been formed to prevent him from naming John P. White, president of the United Mineworkers, as his successor. Mitchell took small part in the convention but he campaigned for White so well that on Thursday night it was said he had promise of enough votes to give him control of the entire administration if he wished, including the choice of himself to succeed Samuel Gompers.

Mr. Mitchell had refused up to today to discuss his position but it was known that he was reluctant to displace Gompers and that he had been asked to take the presidency at the 1914 convention.

In the balloting John H. Walker, a socialist, held the 3703 votes of the United Mineworkers of America, one-fifth of the total vote of the convention. The Western Federation of Miners, the Brewery Workers, the Printing Pressmen and the Machinists were counted on to vote as Mitchell distal.

It was said to be the purpose of the radicals to stampede the convention for Mitchell, who is the only industrial unionist on the present executive board.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mothers! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

TO AVERT STRIKE

Conference of Employees and the Officials at Schenectady, N. Y.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Representatives of the unions having membership among the 12,000 employees of the General Electric Co. here were in conference early today with Jas. A. Smith, general superintendent of the works and there was hope that an agreement would be reached that would avert the threatened strike. The unions demand the reinstatement of Frank Dujay and Mabel Leslie, who were labor leaders alleged, were dismissed in pursuance of a plan to eliminate active unionists among the company's employees. General Electric officials deny the existence of such a purpose.

STEAMERS IN COLLISION

HEAVY FOG HUNG OVER NEW YORK HARBOR THIS MORNING—SCHOONER DAMAGED

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—In the low lying blanket of fog that hung over New York harbor this morning, the steamer New Haven of the New England S. S. The schooner was damaged to the extent of $2000.

Many craft, including the liner Adriatic, were held up for a time off quarantine because of the fog. About 4000 passengers were delayed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—John H. Blumenthal of No. 185 Bay street, Jersey City, woke from a sound refreshing sleep yesterday morning and was unable to find his trousers, which he had put the night before under his pillow. He had left $240 in a pocket of the trousers.

At his bedroom window he found a ladder and near the foot of the ladder was a broomstick pole with an iron hook in one end. The trousers were in an ash can. The $240 is still missing. The burglar had stood on the ladder and fished out the trousers.

SHED COLLAPSED

UPTON, Nov. 22.—Without warning, a grain shed at West Upton station, owned by Postmaster Eben T. Hall, suddenly split apart and collapsed completely.

Seven carloads of grain and flour, much of which had just been hauled into the building, were scattered in every direction with the walls and roof of the structure.

Harry Sweet and Edward E. Holton had only a few minutes previously finished hauling grain and flour into the shed, a 20 by 40 foot building. They were driving home to dinner when the crash came.

ALL AMERICAN COSTUME

CINCINNATI, Nov. 22.—The fact that Miss Jessie Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, will be married in a costume of purely American production, both as to workmanship and material, has struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the members of the chamber of commerce, with the result that the following telegram has been sent to the future Mrs. Sayre by the home products committee:

"We congratulate you on your loyalty to your country in ordering your trousseau entirely of American manufactures. Your patriotism is a good omen and will do much to further the cause of more patronage of home industries by our people. All good wishes for your happiness."

MAYOR IN NEW ROLE

Opened Big Football Game Between Indians of Lowell and Lawrence Team

The big football game between the Indians of Lowell and the Amory A. A. of Lawrence, to settle the state championship, was played on the old fair grounds in Gerhart street this afternoon, and the largest crowd of the season was on hand to see the fun.

The local team has established a remarkable record this season, winning practically all of its games, and they went into the contest this afternoon with the determination of winning out on the long end. The Indians have a light team this season, but what they lack in weight they make up in speed and aggressiveness.

The down river eleven comes here with a record unblemished by defeat, and their recent win over the South Ends of this city demonstrates the fact that the Lawrence lads are spunky boys.

A feature of the afternoon was the fact that the game was opened by His Honor Mayor James E. O'Donnell. After the referee had called the captains of both teams to the center of the field and decided on points of the game, he passed the ball to the mayor and the latter showed that he was there with the kick. He planted the pigskin in the center of the field and then the game was started.

TO GIVE STRIKERS HEARING

Mayor Wright of Worcester Sends Letter to Master Steamfitters, Inviting Them to Session

WORCESTER, Nov. 22.—Mayor Geo. M. Wright yesterday sent to the master steamfitters of Worcester a letter, inviting them to meet with him and the superintendent of public buildings and a committee from the striking employees in city hall on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at his office at city hall. The striking steamfitters were out work early in the summer because the masters would not give them more wages and a shorter week, have lodged with the mayor a protest against the employment of non-residents of Worcester on municipal work. The city contracts call for the employment of citizens of Worcester on all municipal work as far as it is practicable, and the striking steamfitters claim that non-residents are doing work which they are willing to do under what they consider proper conditions.

The mayor has agreed to give the strikers a hearing on Wednesday afternoon and in his letter to the masters he says, among other things, after calling their attention to the form of municipal contract:

"I am ready and willing to lend my good offices without prejudice in an effort to get the contending parties together without regard to politics or other reasons. I have tried to make it clear that I do not want to be made the arbitrator in this matter. I know very little what the real contentions are and I should not undertake to say to either party. You shall or must do so and so. I would like, however, like to hear both sides of the controversy, because it is possible I might offer suggestions toward its solution."

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty to tell to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and I was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get out of bed. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80 Page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free, and only obtainable by mail. Write for it to-day. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

FOR LOWELL MOTORISTS

News From Lowell Auto and Supply Stations—The New Hudson Light "Six"

The announcement of a new Hudson Light Six by Mr. George R. Dana, local distributor, is an important one to the motorists of Lowell, as well as to the other people throughout the country. This is a car that is bound to attract widespread attention, and to bring many sales up to the manufacturers. On this page will be an advertisement of this new Hudson and the reader will there find full particulars as to equipment, weight, power, price, and other important information, which should be read carefully.

People who have formerly been obliged to contend with a four cylinder will be delighted at learning that they may now have a six cylinder machine with no increased expense, and a machine of excellent appearance and construction. The Hudson light six has all the qualities of smooth running, etc. of the big sizes, and is really a six cylinder car with perhaps even more than the economical features of the four. The advertisement on this page will furnish full particulars.

At Pitts
Progress and growth is apparently the keynote of the affairs at Pitts supply house, and new articles are added to the stock each day. This establishment in Hurd street is a favorite destination of motorists in trouble and also of those in need of one or another of the accessories.

That Buick Six
That big Buick Six, "the rich man's car at the business man's price" is the object of widespread admiration at the salesrooms in Appleton street. It has been designated as "the car which sells by the trainload" and this well doubtless prove true in Lowell. An important announcement concerning the new Buick advertisement which should not escape the notice of the reader.

The Buick Ford
The 1914 Fords are shown at the Lowell Motor Mart in Merrimack street where Mr. Rochette has the agency of "The Universal Car." The sales of these machines this year are expected to be greater than ever. Mr. Rochette is putting his sales by means of constant advertising which is of the paying variety.

Moody Bridge Garage
With the announcement that the new Moody bridge garage, now owned and operated by Mr. James M. Ranger, there will undoubtedly be a great demand for space for the storage of cars for the winter in this establishment. There are two floors and the storerooms are steam heated. The rates, as advertised, are attractive.

Bikes, gloves and caps, a new line of each, are being featured at the Donovan Harness company in Market and Palmer streets.

AUTO TRUCK ADVANTAGE

Practical Manufacturer Shows How Real Estate Values Affect Comparison Between Auto and Horse

"In these days of leaping real estate values, in our cities and towns, the question of space is one of the most important the merchant has to consider, and this is why more motor trucks are appearing on the streets everywhere," said John N. Willey, a prominent automobile manufacturer of Ohio, in a recent discussion of truck business. "The housing of the motor truck has had a very important bearing on transportation problems, and more consideration is being given this phase of question every day. This is because a motor truck can be housed and cared for in one-fourth to one-third the space needed for horses.

"Another argument in favor of the truck is that the ground on which its garage is to be located need not be in the high-price, downtown district. It can be stored over night five to ten miles from the store, factory or warehouse, and still be on hand at the regular opening hour, without imposing any hardship on anyone. With horses this cannot be done for a team that has to travel eight or ten miles in the morning is partially tired out before it works begins.

"A garage, 35 by 60 feet will house five heavy trucks, while the 35 to 40 horses and 3 or 4 wagons that these trucks replace require a space three or four times as great. Those firms who stock to horses for mechanical transportation find that they must make a large, unnecessary investment to carry on their business, for down town real estate is as costly for a stable as for an office building."

"SPEED KING" SPECIAL CAR

A centipede car, specially constructed for the Indianapolis five-hundred mile race on the motor speedway, is Bob Burman's, the world's speed king's greatest present hobby. It is called centipede because it possesses sixteen valves, four to a cylinder, two intake and two exhaust. Bob claims that with this multiple arrangement he can get gas into his car and burn it faster than ever before, thereby making speeds of 110 miles an hour with a 150 cubic inch job. Mr. Burman's play, the component parts of the new space eater. This is to save a trip into the next county if anything should happen to go wrong. It is said. According to latest reports, Burman hopes to have his new creation done early next spring for an automobile tryout prior to the big speedway decoration day carnival.

USE OF MOTORCYCLE

Increases Efficiency of Postal Service of Uncle Sam—Fast in Omaha, Neb., Proves It

According to tests made in the Omaha, Neb., postoffice, it has been shown that parcel post packages can be delivered by motorcycle one-fourth faster than by carrier. In the test 428 packages were delivered by motorcycle at a cost of $10.86, or 2 1/2 cents per package, while five carriers delivered 527 packages at a cost of $17.98—2 3/4 cents per package.

Three motorcycles have been purchased by the Louisville, Ky., postoffice. These will probably be used in the morning to deliver mail to the carriers at the starting point of their routes. At other times the motorcycles will be used in the collection of mail.

Sometime ago the Louisville postoffice tried the use of automobiles for this purpose, but it has been decided that the motorcycle will be much more serviceable, especially in the congested districts.

REX ON WASHINGTON BANK

Lawrence Murray is President and E. E. Jordan Chairman of Board of U. S. Trust Company

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—When the doors of the United States Trust company closed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, long lines of men and women were seeking admission to withdraw their deposits. The run started early yesterday and the number of depositors demanding payment grew through the day.

Last night a special detachment of police is guarding the entrance to the Trust company while many men and some women are standing about the building.

Lawrence O. Murray, former controller of the currency, is president of the company and E. E. Jordan is chairman of the board.

Since Jordan got control, several years ago, it has absorbed several minor banks and established branches in all sections of the city. Many of its depositors are poor men and women who have been interested in advertising and high interest rates on deposits.

Jordan came to Washington 15 years ago and got a job as a real estate salesman. In a few years he was president of a real estate firm. About five years ago he turned banker. Jordan was a candidate for chairman of President Wilson's Inland committee, but was defeated by William C. Brown. Jordan and his wife were married in 1908. His wife died in 1910.

About six months ago Jordan made Lawrence Murray president of the bank and took the board of chairmanship for himself. At about the same time he bought into the Mutual Alliance Trust company of New York and was elected to the board.

His wife divorced him several months ago. He has been in the company of Mrs. Clarence Moore, daughter of the Chicago pork packer, on many occasions and it has been rumored from time to time that they might be married. Clarence Moore went down with the Titanic.

CHINESE REOPEN STORES
Taken as Indication They Will Comply With Registration Law in Panama and Take Test to Courts

PANAMA, Nov. 22.—All the smaller Chinese stores reopened yesterday afternoon and it is expected that the wholesale establishments and the shops of the curio merchants will follow suit today. The reopening yesterday were regarded generally as an indication that the Chinese have decided to comply with the registration law, although to date none of them has taken out their papers. They still have five days grace, however, before the government threat to take summary action against them goes into effect.

At a meeting of the Chinese it was decided that if they complied with the government order the constitutionality of the law requiring registration would be tested in the supreme court.

UP TO PARENTS

No Rifle Practice in Boston Schools Until They Say So

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Rifle shooting will not be introduced into the public schools of Boston, as proposed by the war department, until the school committee is convinced that the parents of the pupils approve of it, according to George S. Brock, chairman of the school board.

The war department is very favorably impressed with the spirit and discipline of the high school cadets of Boston and is considering the advisability of offering the cadets prizes for competition in rifle shooting.

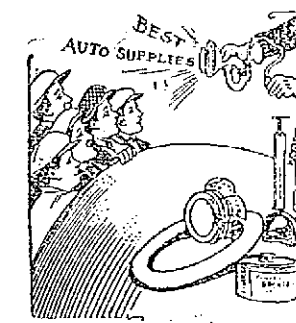

"So far we have received no communication from the war department," said Mr. Brock yesterday. "The idea did not originate with the school board and for myself I will say that I want to be sure that the parents approve of the idea of competition in rifle shooting before I vote in favor of its adoption."

There is one feature of military drill that the board is interested in and that is the military bearing of the cadets. I was astonished at the number of boys with stooped shoulders in the last cadet parade. The cadets, I think every one will admit, ought to have the alert poise of active young men. I believe that this and body building are as important as rifle shooting."

DR. CHARLES W. HAYES ANNUAL MEETING

AMERICAN WHO FIGURES IN EFFORT TO SAVE MEXICAN OIL PROPERTIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The British oil interests are vitally concerned in the Mexican situation, and Lord Cowdray, the London millionaire and oil magnate, has solicited the aid of both the English and the American governments in protecting his property in Mexico and the lives of his employees. The British oil interests in Mexico under the control of Lord Cowdray are centered at Tampico under the name of the Compania Mexico de

In the vestry of the Unitarian church in Merrimack street last night was held the annual meeting of the First Unitarian society and the Channing Fraternity. James Gilbert Hill, secretary, called the society meeting to order, and Judge Frederic A. Fisher was chosen moderator. The three members of the standing committee for two years, whose terms expire at the end of the year, were reelected, the

The leader of the revolutionists marching on Tuxpan has stated, according to reports here, that he would "run out every gallon of British owned oil tanked in Tuxpan" and set fire to it. While these interests are British owned, most of the employees of the company at Tampico and Tuxpan, it is said here, are Americans. Dr. Charles Willard Hayes, well known in Washington by reason of his twenty-four years of service with the United States geological survey, is first vice-president and general manager of the Aguila company at Tampico. Dr. Hayes was chief geologist of the United States geological survey on Oct. 15, 1911, when he resigned his post under the government to become the general manager in charge of the Cowdray oil interests, with headquarters at Tampico.

NEW DIRIGIBLE ASCENDED FROM LAKE CONSTANCE TODAY FOR 250-MILE TRIP

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Nov. 22.—The most modern of Zeppelin dirigible airships, the Zeppelin VI, intended for the service of the German army, ascended from Lake Constance today and started on his first trip during which he will try to reach Gotha, about 250 miles due north.

Work is now being pushed forward on the new naval Zeppelin which is to replace the one destroyed in the catastrophe at Johannisthal on Oct. 17, when the entire crew of 25 officers and men were killed. The airship under construction embodies all the improvements believed by experts necessary to obviate such accidents as caused the recent disaster.

EARLY MORNING FIRES

FIREMEN CALLED TO THOMPSON BOX FACTORY AND TO BUILDING ON GORHAM STREET

An alarm from box 215 at 1:30 o'clock this morning called the members of Engine 1 to the Thompson box factory on Meadowcroft street where a small blaze had started in the boiler room. It was extinguished before any damage was done.

At 5:11 o'clock this morning a curtain caught fire in the building located at the corner of Gorham and Lundberg streets. An alarm from box 123 summoned the firemen and the blaze was confined to the curtain.

The sum of $300 was appropriated for pulpit supply, and $1475 for music; and the treasurer was authorized to borrow a sum not exceeding $300 for current expenses. The financial report showed the amount of the building fund to be $22,050.

Rev. Charles T. Billings proposed a plan to increase the efficiency of the church work, by dividing the membership into committees. All committees to act under the general direction of an advisory council. The plan was referred to the standing committee with full power, and a recommendation for favorable action.

VERDICT FOR $100

For Lawrence Parties Against the Bay State Street Railway Company

LAWRENCE, Nov. 22.—In the superior civil court at the local court house with Judge George A. Sanderson of Ayer presiding, the sealed verdicts in the cases of Stella M. Boynton and Edwin M. Boynton against the Bay State Street Railway company were opened yesterday and a verdict in the former case was for the plaintiff for $100 and for $100 for the plaintiff in the second case. The jury was out about nine hours.

The case was an action of tort for $5000. The plaintiff alleged she was injured while a passenger on a car going from Lawrence to Lowell, on Jan. 8, 1912, which collided with another car near Glen Forest. She was represented by Atty. M. A. Sullivan, while the defendant had Col. J. E. Sawyer as counsel.

Hudson Light Six

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Sixes, up to lately, have been big, heavy, costly cars. This has barred out a great many motorists who wanted smaller cars, lighter cars, cars more economical. They have been forced to buy Fours. Last year tens of thousands of such men paid from $1,500 to $2,000 for a four-cylinder car.

Into this field comes this HUDSON Six-40. The weight is 2,940 pounds. That is 1,250 pounds lighter than the best-selling car in the four-cylinder field, with the same wheel base and approximately the same power.

This HUDSON Six-40 weighs only 500 pounds more than the HUDSON 32. Yet the wheel base is seven inches longer, the power 30 per cent. greater, the capacity is up to six-passengers instead of five, and there are six cylinders, instead of four, to say nothing of electric self-starter, electric lights, etc.

In fuel consumption, by actual tests, the HUDSON Six-40 runs more miles per gallon than any equal-powered Four. On the same road, it has run almost as many miles per gallon as the smaller HUDSON 32.

In upkeep cost, in wear on tires, in the damage done by vibration, in balance by long odds, is in favor of the Six.

And in the price—$1,750—is lower than the price of any equal-powered Four which even approximates this car in finish, room and equipment.

HARVARD DEFEATS YALE

Score 15 to 5

CAMBRIDGE, Nov. 22.—The intercollegiate football championship of the east hovered over the white gridiron of the Stadium today as the Harvard and Yale eleven lined up for the deciding game of the season. The Crimson went into the contest a pronounced favorite in the general betting although the backers of the Blue did not hesitate to accept the alluring odds of 10 to 7 and 10 to 6 wagered against the Yale team.

The game drew a record-breaking crowd of 47,000 people. No other athletic event in this country at which a paid admission was required has drawn such a multitude. In several marathons takes a quarter of a million people have lined the 25 miles from Oakland to Boston but today's crowd in the Stadium made a new high-water mark in American athletic contests. The weather on the vanguard of the crowd reached Cambridge was fine from a spectator's standpoint but the Indian summer air lacked the encouraging snap which puts life and speed into football eleven. It was because of these somewhat enervating conditions that the matter of the physical fitness of the players was expected to play a prominent part in the contest.

Both Teams Confident

The customary favorable reports came from both camps. Yale at Annandale and Harvard at Lowell were received during the forenoon but with qualifications that Guernsey would probably supplant Dunn in the Yale backfield and that the Harvard left end and right tackle might show changes as O'Brien and Hitchcock were somewhat below par in health.

The contest was expected to be the best word in football strategy up to the present time. From his long experience as head of the Harvard football coaching system it was anticipated that Percy Haughton would produce a team strong on both the defense and offense and particularly well equipped in fundamentals and intricate plays.

Good Kicking Department

The game was therefore expected to show what a finished Crimson team could do against a slightly more powerful but less polished negation from New Haven. It is many years since two eleven have faced each other with such well developed kicking departments. Goals from the field from short and long distances were expected to be a feature of today's contest, through the efforts of Brickley and Mahan of Harvard and Knowles and Guernsey of Yale. It was believed that Mahan and Knowles could do most of the punting and that the early strategy of both teams would be to try out each other by booting the ball.

It was the hope of Harvard to keep Yale from scoring a touchdown, as no line-legged player has crossed a Harvard goal line in six years. Harvard men also hoped the result would break the ten year tradition of the Crimson's inability to defeat Yale in the Stadium and the longer one that Harvard could not win from Yale two years in succession.

The Lineup For Today

The announced lineup for the start of today's game was as follows:

Harvard	Yale
O'Brien, 1c	1c, Avery
Storer (capt.), 1t	1t, Talbot
Hitchcock, 1s	1s (capt.), Ketchum
Trumbull, 1c	1c, Marting
Pennock, 1c	1c, Ponderson
Gilman, 1t	1t, Warren
Hardwick, 1c	1c, Carter
Logan, 1b	1b, Wilson
Mahan, 1b	1b, Ainsworth
Bradley, 1b	1b, Knowles
Brickley, 1b	1b, Guernsey

Referee, W. S. Langford of Trinity. Umpire, Neil Snow of Michigan. Head linesman, Dave Fultz of Brown.

Time, 35-minute periods.

As the day progressed the weather turned unusually warm and at noon the thermometer registered over 70 degrees, while under the strong southern breeze there was much humidity. Within the enclosed walls of the stadium the heat was oppressive and it was announced that the coaches would eliminate preliminary practice as far as possible.

Far removed from the rush and excitement of the Harvard-Yale rivalry eleven after an uneventful night were given substantial breakfasts, followed by brief exercise to keep their muscles limber.

Well Pleased With Lovell
The Harvard team came down from Lowell during the forenoon but was kept in seclusion and did not go out to the field.

the field. To a man they were greatly pleased by the attention and cordiality shown them while in that city.

The Yale squad remained at Auburn, date until after lunch, making the five mile run over to the locker building on Soldiers' field in automobiles supplied by local blue graduates.

In the meantime the big crowd had begun to flock into Cambridge. Old graduates renewed acquaintances with the new buildings. Special luncheon accommodations in Memorial hall and the Harvard union were well patronized by friend and foe and the restaurants in Harvard square reaped a harvest.

The assembling of the crowd at the field furnished a problem in suburban transportation, although nearly a third of these who attended the game came in motor cars. Six baseball diamonds and two soccer quadrangles were fenced off for the autos and from noon there was a steady stream of these vehicles onto Soldiers' field.

Early comers by automobile either lunched in their cars or in the Stadium, where hot coffee was in good supply. There were no picnic parties, however, as was the case at New Haven last Saturday.

Sun Shines on Stadium

The afternoon proved even warmer than the morning and until the sun sank behind the walls it was sunshade weather in the stadium. Furs proved an absolute burden and for hours the spectators sat in the stands in indoor garb holding robes, shawls and conical coats in their laps. The afternoon was one of the hottest known for years for a championship contest of late November. As the stands began to fill it was seen that the crowd was to be an exceedingly brilliant one. Reds and blues, or course, were the reigning colors and there was scarcely a graduate who did not sport a red or blue banner while a large majority of the women showed their college preferences in some article of dress.

From the time the gates were thrown open at 12:30 until after the game began there was a steady procession of these red and blue decked enthusiasts going through the ticket passages. It was there that a score of inspectors were stationed and once in a while their eagle eyes would detect tickets purchased from speculators and to the discomfiture of the holders admission was refused, temporarily. Nearly all such cases where the holders proved to be innocent parties their names were taken and duplicate tickets issued.

Although the high walls of the stadium cut off some of the southerly breeze there was nevertheless considerable wind movement down the gridiron. This gave advantage to the team having the wind goal while the team on the opposite side of the field was still further handicapped by the sun shining in the eyes of the players.

Brickley Warm Up

As in the case at Princeton two weeks ago Coach Haughton sent the Harvard team for light practice before the game. Brickley did some splendid goal kicking. He sent five goals from the field out of six tries from the 25-yard line and followed it with three from the 40 and then made two placement kicks from the 45-yard line. The players were then called off the field and strolled back to the locker room.

Fifteen minutes before the game nearly all the spectators were in their seats ready for the contest.

The Yale team appeared at 1:50 and the Yale cheering section immediately went into action. Five minutes later Harvard also appeared and was cheered lustily. The exchange of cheering courtesies between the two sides was then given, the cheering leaders having previously shaken hands. The Harvard cheering squad next formally welcomed the wielders of the Blue megaphones. Just before two o'clock Referee Langford called the two captains to the center of the field and tossed the coin for choice of positions.

Owing to the length of the conference in the field there was a slight delay in calling the players to their positions.

GAME PLAY BY PLAY

STADIUM, Cambridge, Nov. 22.—At 2:05 the Harvard-Yale game started. Play by play it follows:

Testimony That A. T. & T. Co. Tried to Buy up Small Concerns

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Further information regarding the activities in 1912 of the American Telephone & Telegraph company to absorb 29,000 independent concerns was given yesterday by B. G. Hubbard of Buffalo, government witness, in a hearing in connection with the prosecution of the American company for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

In the cross examination of Mr. Hubbard, who is president of the Federal Telephone and Telegraph company, counsel sought to show that the purpose of consolidation was to save expense and would result in lowering the cost of service to the public. Mr. Hubbard thought the motive of the American company was to eliminate costly competition.

The witness also told of an effort by the American company to obtain control of the Stromberg-Carlson company of Rochester, N. Y., reputed to be the second largest manufacturer of telephone supplies in the country.

Mr. Hubbard said if the negotiations had been successful, the independents expected to pay more for their supplies.

Mr. Hubbard said there was no objection among the independents when Theodore N. Vail suggested a plan for a division of territory, the plan to result ultimately in consolidation.

"If Mr. Vail had submitted anything unfair or unlawful, or what you would have considered contrary to the interests of the public, would you have gone farther with the proposition?" "I thought he was acting in good faith," Mr. Hubbard replied, "but I believed what he suggested was unfair and unlawful."

Mr. Hubbard said the independents went ahead with the plan because they had many good features and he thought a more fair adjustment of matters for the public might be worked out.

The witness was asked if the plan had not been to effect a saving in operating the telephone systems of the nation.

"Partly," he said, "but both of the idea, I think, there was no particular intention of reducing the telephone cost to the public. There was no discussion of cheapening service to the public."

In a word, Mr. Vail's point was that competition in some districts was too severe and that he was desirous of eliminating that competition.

ATTACKED WIFE'S GUEST

IS CHARGE AGAINST WEALTHY FARMER AT CHARLESTOWN, WEST VIRGINIA

CHARLESTOWN, W. Va., Nov. 22.—The trial of E. Graham Wilson, a wealthy farmer, charged with attacking Miss Kate Turner, a guest at the Wilson home, on June 6 last, moved slowly yesterday. Arguments of counsel before Judge Woods in private chambers as to the admissibility of evidence of Rev. H. M. Moffett, pastor of the Presbyterian church, as to conversations he had with Mr. Wilson last night, delayed the trial until late yesterday afternoon. When Rev. Mr. Moffett took the stand, no reference was made to the jail conversation, the minister merely testifying as to being apprised of the alleged assault by Miss Turner and her physician, Dr. William Sell. He was excused without cross-examination.

Constable Smith, who arrested Wilson, was recalled yesterday and told of a conversation between Wilson and Mrs. Wilson on the night of the arrest.

Mrs. Wilson, the officer said, had visited Miss Turner at the latter's home. When she left the house, Smith stated, she informed her husband that Miss Turner had said the affair was true.

Jack Jenkins, a colored tenant on a farm adjoining a portion of the Wilson estate, testified he was plowing corn near the scene of the alleged assault. He stated that he had not seen Miss Turner or Wilson, nor had he heard an outcry.

Wilson is expected to testify in his own behalf today and the defense announced last night that testimony would be concluded by evening.

TICK OF CLOCKS IN PARIS
Heard in Washington by Radio Signals—Results of Three Weeks of Patient Experimentation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Three weeks of patient experimentation culminated in success Thursday night when the United States naval observatory here heard the beats of the Paris observatory clock, as transmitted by radio signals from the Eiffel tower to the great navy radio station at Arlington.

The "beats" were compared with those of the Washington clock for some minutes by the method of "recidencies."

The correspondence of the revolutionists shows that the revolutionaries are being stationed at Shanghai, Nanking and Hankow and in the Kiangyin and Wusung forts. Six of the plotters have been arrested.

TO LAY OFF 2500

Report the N.E.T. & T. Company Will Drop Employees in Boston

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—A labor disturbance which may involve all employees of the New England Telephone & Telegraph Co. is threatened as a result of the reported intention of the company to lay off about 2500 men, chiefly in the maintenance department, next week.

The local telephone installers and inside workers union last night telegraphed the international union of telegraphers for official permission to consider any such layoff as a lockout.

A committee was appointed to confer with the company officials. The result of this conference will be reported to a joint meeting of the executive boards of the six electrical unions of this city on Monday night.

The union men claim that the telephone company plans to have the work of the men to be laid off performed under contract by non-union workers to be supplied by the Western Electric Co. The matter has been pending since last spring when the electrical workers voted to strike, if necessary, to prevent such a sale.

At the recent international workers' brotherhood convention here full sanction was promised for any action taken by the local unions to ease the company should adopt the contract method.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

WAS ATTACKED AND DEFENDED AT PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, Nov. 22.—The Monroe doctrine was attacked and defended at yesterday's session of the Pan-American conference at Clark university. Geo. F. Tucker of Boston, author of books on South American affairs, urged that the words "Monroe doctrine" be given up and a policy of Pan-American defense adopted. Prof. Hiram Bingham of Yale expressed similar views.

Charles H. Sherrill, formerly American minister at Buenos Ayres, suggested that in case affairs in Mexico should make it necessary for the United States to intervene, Argentina or Brazil or some other South American country be invited to join.

U. S. A. retired, and Prof. James A. Callahan of West Virginia, discussed the doctrine at the afternoon session. Admiral Chadwick held that while the relations of the United States to the larger nations of South America should be as an equal among equals, the "question of the Caribbean, the Gulf of Mexico and that part of the Pacific bordering Central America had a different status."

"Under no circumstances," said he, "can we break any attempt on the part of foreign nations to secure new footholds in these regions. The protection of the Panama canal, which is so vital a link in our defensive system, demands such an attitude."

Prof. Callahan defended the doctrine, saying that it had aided people who were struggling to free themselves from conditions imposed by European powers, and prevented the partition of Latin America. He declared that with the development of orderly government around the Caribbean sea, the United States would gladly be relieved from the often embarrassing responsibility which it has sought to preserve constitutional government and peace in the western hemisphere.

The conference ended last night with two addresses. W. B. Boyce, publisher and author, spoke on "The Advantages of Making the Panama Canal Zone a Free City and Free Port" and John Hayes Hammond, the mining expert, discussed "The Development of the South American Trade."

Geo. H. McGuire Admits Asking Contributions in Return for Highway Contracts

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—George H. McGuire, the Syracuse bonding agent for state highway and large canal contractors, is a partner of Charles F. Murphy, Jr., nephew of the leader of Tammany hall. He so testified yesterday at the John Doe inquiry into highway graft and said that he had an agreement with Murphy to divide all the bonding business they obtained.

Further, McGuire confessed to having attempted to hold up at least three asphalt companies for $5000 contributions to the state democratic committee in return for getting them contracts from the state highway department.

McGuire was to get a commission of one cent a gallon for all the asphalt the companies sold to the state or to contractors, he said, and the companies were to charge the contributions against the commission.

Two of the companies, the Werner Quinlan company and the Union Oil company of California, did not contribute, he said. Whether the third, the Barber Asphalt company, contributed, McGuire said he did not know, but the Barber company got the contract.

He said he had received a total of $1250 from Arthur J. Murphy, sales agent of the Barber company, but insisted that these were not commissions but money given him as a campaign contribution to Gov. Sulzer.

He said it was possible that he had also sought a contribution from the United States Asphalt company under the same terms. That company paid him $25 in commissions on materials which the company had sold to the repair department of the state highway commission and still owed him money, he said.

So did the Wadsworth stone and paving company and the Barber company. He had last year received commissions also on sales made to the state by the Alston Cement company, the Dryden Cement company, the Kentucky Rock Asphalt company and the Knickerbocker Cement company, he testified.

These admissions were drawn from McGuire only after persistent repetition of questions which District Attorney Whitman hurled at him in a scorching line of attack. Before he took the stand McGuire went before the grand jury and among other things was questioned, it was understood, to the part his brother, James K. McGuire, played in the sharing of commissions.

James K. McGuire, the witness reiterated yesterday, had sailed for St. Francis several days ago but he thought he would be able to get in touch with him and bring him here.

McGuire again denied that in company with his brother he had seen Gov. Sulzer and John N. Carlisle, commissioner of highways, at Cooperstown, N. Y., on July 5 last and discussed the question of specifications.

Under the questioning, McGuire admitted that he had seen Gov. Sulzer and John N. Carlisle, commissioner of highways, at Cooperstown, N. Y., on July 5 last and discussed the question of specifications.

under which the Barber Asphalt company would obtain state contracts to the exclusion of all other companies. He was not sure, however, but that he might have talked with Sulzer at a later date, but not in Cooperstown.

McGuire admitted that he had a conversation with the Barber company in which he had "suggested" that the company make a $5000 campaign contribution to the democratic state committee in return for getting a contract.

He testified that he had held a similar conversation in this city with William Condit, New York agent of the Union Oil company.

"Did you know it was a crime to solicit these contributions?" asked Mr. Whitman.

"I never knew it was a crime to solicit these commissions," replied McGuire.

In regard to his association with Charles F. Murphy, Jr., in the bonding business, McGuire said that he had an agreement with the Tammany leader's nephew which embraced a division of expenses and commissions on the bonding of all large canal state highway, subway and aqueduct contracts.

They both represented the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, he said, and last year they had together obtained about 25 per cent. of state highway bonding business.

McGuire was preceded on the stand by Edward P. Burkard, a Buffalo contractor and chairman of the democratic general committee of Erie county, from which position he recently ousted William Fitzpatrick.

Burkard testified that he had a $250,000 state large canal contract and two smaller contracts for paving roads in Erie county. He had contributed $1000 personally to the democratic state committee in 1911 and in 1912 had turned over $6000 as contributions from other contractors which he said had been given to him by Reeves Smith of Fulton, N. Y., a consulting engineer. The checks, therefore were drawn to the order of Norman P. Mack, he added.

Three more state contractors testified yesterday to having given up campaign contributions to Everett F. Fowler, the alleged Tammany "bag man" now under indictment for extortion.

GOOD WEATHER FOR CITY WORK

If it Holds Out Two Weeks Longer
the Street Department Will
Make General Clean up

If this weather continues for about two more weeks the street department will be able to clean up all of the work now in hand. This statement was made by Commissioner Donnelly this forenoon and he added that when he said it, because they say it is well to rap on wood when you say anything hopeful or beautiful.

There's a fine mass of men in Gosham street today and they are pretty well distributed along the line of work. Mr. Donnelly expects to begin paving in that street on Monday morning. Grouted stone and cement is being laid today and the work is being pushed with all possible haste.

It will require about two weeks more to complete the macadam work in Bridge street and if the weather holds out all will be serene. Paving blocks are being laid in Lawrence street and that job will be out of the way before Jack Frost puts in an appearance.

Sewer Work Rushing

Because of the laying of the twenty-four inch water main across the Merrimack river it is necessary to extend the sewer extension at the Allen street bridge. The water has been so high that the department has not been able to put down the four lengths of pipe necessary but it was stated today that the water was now sufficiently low to admit of work on the extension and it will be finished in a few days. Work on the Varnum avenue sewer is going along smoothly.

The Moody street canal bridge is fast nearing completion and, as before stated, two weeks more of good weather will suffice for a good windup of street department work for the year.

Bids For Wood

Purchasing Agent Foye has called for bids on fifteen cords of hard softwood for the charity department. The bids will open next week.

Another Election Account

Slowly but surely are the election expense accounts finding their way to the city clerk's office at city hall. Mr. Harry Clapp, candidate for alderman, has filed his account and it totals $123.25.

Wanted a Recount

It became known today for the first time that friends of Commissioner Lawrence Cummings wanted him to petition for a recount, but this Mr. Cummings refused to do. He said he was willing to abide by the original count. James H. Carmichael beat Mr. Cummings by 185 votes. Mr. Carmichael received 2552 and Mr. Cummings 1567.

It was an awful beating! Haverhill certainly did not lose any prestige yesterday by the manner in which its team worked. The members of the Haverhill team are all fighters to the last ditch as the fourth period demonstrated. Not content with giving the local team a lacing, they kept piling up the score by the touchdown route with untiring zeal. This is just the kind of football playing which goes to develop a championship eleven.

Coach Broderick of Haverhill is certainly one of the best. He is not one of the kid glove kind but gets after his eleven as though he was bossing a gang of dagos. Broderick deserves un-estimated praise for the manner in which he has brought Haverhill to the fore of schoolboy football. Although rough in his coaching methods, the Haverhill coach is well-nigh worshipped by his players.

Danny Brunelle can take his place beside any prep school back and not lose by comparison. His remarkable showing yesterday was all the more marvelous when the fact is taken into account that Brunelle was facing a much inferior team. When he broke through for his touchdown his interference had been spoiled and he was running alone. In a broken field the entire Haverhill team could not stop him before he crossed their goal line.

The big game today may develop into a goal kicking contest between Brickley and Guernsey. The manner in which Howard Jones has been bringing the latter along of late would point toward an attempt to win the game by the drop kick route. While the Yale man is good, he will have to show a wonderful toe to outscore the Harvard wizard.

The Walpole street grounds are being remodeled for next season by the Boston Nationals. Manager Stallings expects to draw as large, if not larger, than the Red Sox next season and the former capacity was only in the neighborhood of 15,000. An attempt was made to secure a new location for a ball park but it was unsuccessful.

President James Gaffney was yesterday re-elected to the head of the Boston National League club. Mr. Gaffney has proven himself a big factor in pushing the team up to its present position. He will spend money with a free hand when a good player is in the balance, and is just the sort of man who will make the game pay.

Gilbert Gallant and Grover Hayes were reattached yesterday afternoon. The boat will take place on December 5 at Westfield. Gallant rather surprised the fans by handing out a bad beating to the clever Philadelphia boxer in their last meeting and intends to repeat.

Jack Coombs will be in the game next season according to the statements made by his doctors yesterday. Coombs will be 1-16 of an inch shorter when he leaves the hospital than he was when he first took his bed. The injury to his spine has caused it to shrink, so the medical experts say. Anyhow, Jack will be twisting again so his loss in height won't bother him much.

SCENE AT YESTERDAY'S LOWELL-HAVERHILL GAME AT SPAULDING PARK

LOWELL-HAVERHILL GAME

part of the first half and flashed some spectacular open field running upon the spectators. He ran thirty yards for a touchdown through the entire Haverhill team.

Roane at end was one of the few local boys who demonstrated that he knew how to tackle. This youngster flashed his way into every play whether on his side of the line or on the other and made tackles in the open that would put many college ends to shame.

Cahill also played a whirlwind game at tackle and out kicked Reed in all their exchanges except one when the ball went out of bounds. Cahill was in the game throughout his stay in the lineup and the whistle always found him on the ground.

Corbett at center was up against an aggressive man in Menzies but did very well with him. Corbett and the two guards worked well on the delayed pass, which was worked quite frequently by Haverhill. This play seldom netted the visitors more than a yard or two.

Mochrie, who was hurt toward the close of the game, displayed his steady, consistent plugging which has made him a factor in high school football during the past two years. Mochrie, as well as Cahill, was boxed on many plays and run completely out of the play. This was not due to any inability in either man but rather to the inadequate defense which Lowell presented on all side tackle attacks. Mochrie, fortunately for the Lawrence team next Thursday, was not severely injured.

LEONARD, MIDGET GRIDIRON

STAR, MAY BEAT THE ARMY

LEONARD

ANNAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—In spite of the Navy's boast that their team is the heaviest in years the chances are that the lightest man on either team will be their star player in the annual test with the Army. His name is Leonard, and he plays halfback. Leonard was the best punter in the Naval academy last year and is depended upon to deliver the goods against the cadets. Failing a much heavier man may start the game at half, but when a long kick or a quick dash around the end is needed the midget will be called upon.

PRESIDENT OF BRVES
BOSTON, Nov. 22.—James E. Gaffney of New York was reelected president of the Boston National League baseball club yesterday. Plans for the removal of the grounds to another part of the city have been abandoned, and it was voted to erect a new grandstand. This will involve an extension of the present grounds, and may increase the area of the playing field.

MISSING N.Y. MAN FOUND BIG OPIUM RAID

Park Commissioner Stover, Who "Went to Lunch" Oct. 16, Was Located at Washington

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Park Commissioner Charles B. Stover, who has not been at his office in the Arsenal, Central Park, since noon, Oct. 16, was in Washington, D. C., yesterday morning.

Former Commissioner of Licenses John N. Bogart met him in the Union station there and talked with him for a few moments without mentioning to him the confusion and speculation which have been provoked by his absence. Mr. Bogart returned to New York last night.

"Commissioner Stover," said Mr. Bogart to a reporter, "told me he had not been at the national capital for several years and that he intended to do some sightseeing there before coming back to New York."

"He said he was on a vacation and had spent part of it in Baltimore. He said he had been enjoying it too, since it was the first he had had in four years. I understood him to say he would return Sunday or Monday."

Did Not Refer to Friends
Mr. Bogart declared that there could be no doubt that it was Mr. Stover to whom he had talked.

"I have known him for twenty years," he said, "and I talked to him in the course of the station, for twenty minutes. It was my first thought to ask him where in the world he had been and why he hadn't let his friends in New York know what he had in mind when he went away."

"Before I had a chance to ask my question, however, the conversation passed to other matters, and as he talked along with never a reference to New York or to his job, I began to think there was some reason why he was holding away from these topics."

"It wasn't until after I had left that I thought of the possibility that something more than going on a vacation had been responsible for the commissioner's absence. It was too late then to notice if there was any indication of anything wrong, but the best of my recollection was that he was looking very well physically and seemed very well mentally."

Mayor Kline has fixed Monday as the limit of time Commissioner Stover may remain away without being removed from his position before his term expires, which will be when Mayor-elect Mitchell takes office. Mayor Kline was compelled last week to appoint Commissioner Kennedy of Brooklyn president of the park board, so that long delayed contracts might be signed, and on Wednesday appointed Louis F. La Roche, examiner of the department, acting commissioner, in order to further relieve the situation. This appointment was made possible by the passage on Tuesday of an ordinance by the board of aldermen.

Went to "Lunch" Oct. 16
Yesterday, which was the thirty-sixth day of Stover's absence, passed without the receipt of any word concerning him at the park department or at the University Settlement, No. 181 E. 17th street, where Stover has lived for twenty-five years. When Ira H. Patchin, secretary to the commissioner, was told last night that his chief had been seen in Washington, his first comment was:

"Did the commissioner say anything about the distress he has caused his friends?"

Stover left his desk at noon, Oct. 16, saying he was going to luncheon. He has only twice been heard from, by letters mailed in Philadelphia, in which he avoided giving any clue to his whereabouts.

Mayor Kline accepted the view of Robbins Gilman, manager of the University Settlement, that Stover, having worked for four years without a vacation, had gone away for rest. Stover had done the same thing several times before. When Mayor Gaynor determined to appoint him he was absent six weeks.

A LIVE POSSUM
Gift for White House
Bride—Many Want
Wedding Cake

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Numerous requests for a piece of Jessie Wilson's wedding cake caused the issue at the White House today of a statement describing the size of the cake as too small to gratify the desires of the public. The statement says:

"On account of the erroneous and extravagant statements as to the size and cost of the cake which has been baked for the wedding of Miss Jessie Wilson, Mrs. Wilson wishes it stated that the cake is nine inches long and 22 inches in diameter. It is the usual kind of bride's cake and is not at all elaborate."

The Rev. John Nevin Sayre, a brother of the groom-to-be, arrived here today from Germany on his way back from missionary work in China.

The Rev. Mr. Sayre will assist the Rev. Dr. Sylvester Beach of Princeton, N. J., at the wedding ceremony.

Among the wedding gifts received at the White House today was a live possum addressed to President Wilson.

AID FOR CONSUMPTIVES
President and Mrs. Wilson Lend Their Assistance to Bazaar Being held at Washington
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President and Mrs. Wilson are lending their assistance to a bazaar being held here for the benefit of the Starmont aid for consumptives. It was learned today that autographed photographs of the president were sent from the executive offices to be sold for the cause at a special booth in a downtown hotel while the thriving trade done by flower girls was found to be due to the fact that the blossoms were the contribution of Mrs. Wilson and had come from the White House conservatory. The bazaar will close tonight.

Inspectors Arrest Portland Chinaman—Seize Quantity of Drug

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 22.—Wing Chin Tang, a Chinese grocer, was arrested here last night by inspectors from Boston, charged with the manufacture and sale of opium. The inspectors charge that the prisoner's store has been headquarters of the opium distributing trade in New England.

The raid was made by Custom Inspectors McKenna and Finnegan, who say they not only found the drug in actual process of manufacture, but seized also a quantity of opium, which they estimate to be worth $3000 or $4000.

When the officers visited the store they found eight Chinamen within and three of them were smoking the drug. Wing Chin at first resisted arrest, but he soon quieted down and was taken to jail. He will be removed to Augusta today and arraigned before United States Commissioner Farrington, as the local commissioner is out of town.

The arrest of Wing Chin came as the result of an investigation which has taken over two years and has covered every section of New England. Despite the raids that were made in Boston and other places, opium kept appearing and Special Commissioner Carl H. Chandler of Boston and his assistants have been puzzled to learn the source of the supply.

SIXTH REGT. RATINGS
As Given Out From the Adjutant General's Office For Companies and Men

The following are the ratings of the Sixth Regiment, M. V. M. as given out from the adjutant general's office for the year 1912, and the same shows that Company G of this city is sixth in the list, while Company K stands in 12th place.

Lieutenant T. W. Doyle is 12th among the first lieutenants and Lieut. H. J. Patten, adjutant, is 33rd.

Lieut. S. R. Waller is the 15th among the second lieutenants, with C. Frank Dugre, (retired), in 44th place.

The other Lowell companies and officers are not mentioned in the order.

The regiment has 820 points out of a thousand and its nearest competitor is the First Corps Cavalry with 800. These ratings are figured on the total of camp duty, armory work, enrollment, attendance and target work.

In the first 60 companies, Company G of Lowell stands sixth, with 820, the same as the fifth company, D, of the Sixth. Company D is given the preference on account of seniority. Company K of Lowell stands 19th, with 869, the same as the 4th in the list again on the score of seniority. The ratings in this list are taken in the same manner as that for the regiments.

INDIANS PLAY SYRACUSE
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The Carlisle team arrived here today for their annual battle in the stadium with the Syracuse team. The Orange warriors have always proved a dangerous foe to the Indians, but the former team is crippled, four of the regular men who faced Colgate last week being on the injured list. Last year Carlisle won 33 to 0.

CHAIRMAN ELLIOTT
Says Most Important Action at Directors' Meeting Was Ratification of Mortgage

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Chairman Howard Elliott of the New Haven road in discussing yesterday's meeting of the board of directors said today that the most important action taken was the ratification of the mortgage and agreements covering the New York connecting railroad. This company is building a bridge over the East river so as to make better connection between New York, Long Island and New Jersey and provide improved facilities for the movement of traffic between New England and the south.

A.F. OF L. ELECTS OFFICERS TO AVERT STRIKE

The Final Day of Convention at Seattle, Wash.—Resolution for Copper Co. Investigation

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The final day of the American Federation of Labor convention opened with the report of the committee on resolutions requesting a federal investigation of charges that several Michigan copper companies obtained possession of land illegally. A resolution disposing of the split in the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers recommended reference to the executive council.

The election of officers was fixed for three o'clock this afternoon. It makes the evening topic. Second Vice-President John Mitchell said a year ago that he wished to retire from office. When he arrived in Seattle to attend the presentation he learned that a combination of conservatives had been formed to prevent him from naming John P. White, president of the United Mineworkers, as his successor. Mitchell took small part in the convention but he campaigned for White so well that on Thursday night

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Nov. 22.—Representative of the unions having membership among the 12,000 employees of the General Electric Co. have been in conference early today with J. A. The unions demand the reinstatement of Frank Dujay and Michel Leslie, who the labor leaders allege were dismissed in pursuance of a plan to eliminate active unionists among the company's employees. General Electric officials deny the existence of such a purpose.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Where has the male stenographer gone? This is a problem occupying the attention of the civil service commissioners, who are convinced he has joined the departed great auk and the dodo bird. Efforts have been made and made strenuously in the recent past to encourage some of the species for positions paying from $150 to $200 a year but without avail.

A PLEASANT GATHERING

Last evening a very enjoyable neighborhood party was held at the residence of Mr. D. S. O'Brien on Wannan street. Recently Mr. O'Brien had improvements made on his residence, and his friends decided to call around and inspect the changes. They were made welcome and hospitably entertained by the host and hostess. In short order the tables were arranged for whist. There were four tables and the playing was quite spirited. The prize winners were Mrs. Richard S. Donohue, first prize, and the second prize went to Miss Margaret Curran. The gentlemen's prizes went to James W. McKenna, first, Mr. Thomas F. McGuire, second. After the whist, the guests were invited to the dining room where an elegant spread was provided. An impromptu concert was then enjoyed. Among the guests was a number of the members of St. Patrick's choir with Prof. Johnson and all contributing liberally to the evening's entertainment. George O'Brien rendered Irish vocal and instrumental music, as did also John J. McNabb. Mr. Andrew A. McCarthy sang two beautiful selections. There were recitations by John J. McNabb. Mr. D. S. O'Brien acted as choir director and some of the choicest sacred music was rendered. The enjoyable occasion lasted until the hour of midnight. It was unanimously agreed that Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien are ideal entertainers.

Mayor Wright of Worcester Sends Letter to Master Steamfitters, Inviting Them to Session

WORCESTER, Nov. 22.—Mayor Geo. M. Wright yesterday sent to the master steamfitters of Worcester a letter, inviting them to meet with him and the superintendent of public buildings and a committee from the striking employees in city hall on Wednesday, Nov. 26, at his office at city hall. The striking steamfitters, who quit work early in the summer because the masters would not give them more wages and a shorter week, have lodged with the mayor a protest against the employment of non-unionists of Worcester on municipal work. The city contracts call for the employment of citizens of Worcester on all municipal work as far as it is practicable, and the striking steamfitters claim that non-residents are doing work which they are willing to do under what they consider proper conditions.

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

By Timely Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and was so nervous I could not sleep, then I would be so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

Look Mothers! If Tongue is Coated Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, tons sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

The announcement of a new Hudson Light Six by Mr. George R. Dana, local distributor, is an important one to the motorists of Lowell, as well as the similar notices have been to other people throughout the country. This is a car that is bound to attract widespread attention, and to bring many sales up to the manufacturers. On this page will be noted an advertisement of this new Hudson and the reader will there find full particulars as to equipment, weight, power, price, and other important information, which should be read carefully.

People who have formerly been obliged to be content with a four cylinder will be delighted at learning that they may now have a six cylinder machine with no increased expense, and a machine of excellent appearance and construction. The Hudson light six has all the qualities of smooth running, etc. of the big sixes, and is really a six cylinder car with perhaps even more than the economical features of the four. The advertisement on this page will furnish full particulars.

USE OF MOTORCYCLE

Increases Efficiency of Postal Service of Uncle Sam—Test in Omaha, Neb. Proves It

According to tests made in the Omaha, Neb., postoffice, it has been shown that parcel post packages can be delivered by motorcycle one-fourth cent cheaper per package than by carrier. In the test 425 packages were delivered by motorcycle at a cost of $1.50, or 2 1/2 cents per package, while five carriers delivered 687 packages at a cost of $17.25—2 1/2 cents per package.

Three motorcycles have been purchased by the Louisville, Ky., postoffice. These will probably be used in the morning to deliver mail to the carriers at the starting point of their routes. At other times the motorcycles will be used in the collection of mail.

Sometime ago the Louisville postoffice tried the use of automobiles for this purpose, but it has been decided that the motorcycle will be much more serviceable, especially in the congested districts.

RUN ON WASHINGTON BANK

Lawrence Murray is President and E. E. Jordan Chairman of Board of U. S. Trust Company

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—When the doors of the United States Trust company closed at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, long lines of men and women were seeking admission to withdraw their deposits. The run started early yesterday and the number of depositors demanding payment grew through the day.

Last night a special detachment of police is guarding the entrance to the Trust company while many men and some women are standing about the building.

Lawrence O. Murray, former controller of the currency, is president of the company and E. E. Jordan is chairman of the board.

Since Jordan got control, several years ago, it has absorbed several minor banks and established branches in all sections of the city. Many of its depositors are poor men and women who have been attracted by advertising and high interest rates on deposits.

Jordan came to Washington 15 years ago and got a job as a real estate salesman. In a few years he was president of a real estate firm. About five years ago he turned banker. Jordan was a candidate for chairman of President Wilson's inaugural committee, but was defeated by William C. Coker. He and his wife were married in 1908 and have three children.

About six months ago Jordan made Lawrence Murray president of the bank and took the board of chairmanship for himself. At about the same time he bought into the Mutual Alliance Trust company of New York and was elected to the board.

His wife divorced him several months ago. He has been in the company of Mrs. Clarence Moore, daughter of the Chicago pork packer, on many occasions and it has been rumored from time to time that they might be married. Clarence Moore went down with the Titanic.

CHINESE REOPEN STORES

Taken as Indication They Will Comply With Registration Law in Panama and Take Test to Court

PANAMA, Nov. 22.—All the smaller Chinese stores reopened yesterday afternoon and it is expected that the wholesale establishments and shops of the curio merchants will follow suit today. The reopenings yesterday were regarded generally as an indication that the Chinese have decided to comply with the registration law, although to date none of them has taken out their papers. They still have five days' grace, however, before the government's threat to take summary action against them goes into effect.

At a meeting of the Chinese it was decided that if they complied with the government order the constitutionality of the law requiring registration would be tested in the supreme court.

No Rifle Practice in Boston Schools Until They Say So

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—Rifle shooting will not be introduced into the public schools of Boston, as proposed by the war department, until the school committee is convinced that the parents of the pupils approve of it, according to George S. Brock, chairman of the school board.

The war department is very favorably impressed with the spirit and discipline of the high school cadets of Boston and is considering the advisability of offering the cadets prizes for competition in rifle shooting. "So far we have received no communication from the war department," said Mr. Brock yesterday. "The idea did not originate with the school board and for myself I will say that I want to be sure that the parents approve of the idea of competition in rifle shooting before I vote in favor of its adoption."

There is one feature of military drill that the board is interested in and that is the military bearing of the cadets. I was astonished at the number of boys with stooped shoulders in the last cadet parade. The cadets, I think every one will admit, ought to have the alert poise of active young men. I believe that this and body building are as important as rifle shooting.

Hudson Light Six

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Sixes, up to lately, have been big, heavy, costly cars. This has barred out a great many motorists who wanted smaller cars, lighter cars, cars more economical. They have been forced to buy Fours. Last year tens of thousands of such men paid from $1,500 to $2,000 for a four-cylinder car.

Into this field comes this HUDSON Six-40. The weight is 2,940 pounds. That is 1,255 pounds lighter than the best-selling car in the four-cylinder field, with the same wheel base and approximately the same power.

This HUDSON Six-40 weighs only 200 pounds more than the HUDSON 32. Yet the wheel base is seven inches longer, the power 30 per cent greater, the capacity is up to six-passengers instead of five, and there are six cylinders, instead of four, to say nothing of electric self-starter, electric lights, etc.

In fuel consumption, by actual tests, the HUDSON Six-40 runs more miles per gallon than any equal-powered Four. On the same road, it has run almost as many miles per gallon as the smaller HUDSON 32.

In upkeep cost, in wear on tires, in the damage done by vibration, in a lower-priced car, is in favor of the Six.

And in the price—$1,750—is lower than the price of any equal-powered Four which even approximates this car in finish, room and equipment.

Think what that means. A lighter car than any comparable Four. A lower-priced car, a more beautiful car. A car with lower operating cost. And yet a car with all the luxury, all the advantages of a Six.

This means a real revolution. It opens up an almost boundless field among legions of men who have heretofore had to buy Fours.

DR. CHARLES W. HAYES

AMERICAN WHO FIGURES IN EFFORT TO SAVE MEXICAN OIL PROPERTIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The British oil interests are vitally concerned in the Mexican situation, and Lord Cowdray, the London millionaire and oil magnate, has solicited the aid of both the English and the American governments in protecting his property in Mexico and the lives of his employees. The British oil interests in Mexico under the control of Lord Cowdray are centered at Tampico under the name of the Compañia Mexicana de

DR. C. W. HAYES

Petrola et Agulla, better known as the Mexican Eagle Oil company, which also has refineries at Tuxpan. The leader of the revolutionists marching on Tuxpan has stated, according to reports here, that he would "run out every gallon of British owned oil tanked in Tuxpan" and set fire to it. While these interests are British owned, most of the employees of the company at Tampico and Tuxpan, it is said here, are Americans. Dr. Charles Willard Hayes, well known in Washington by reason of his twenty-four years of service with the United States geological survey, is first vice-president and general manager of the Agulla company at Tampico. Dr. Hayes was chief geologist of the United States geological survey on Oct. 18, 1911, when he resigned his post under the government to become the general manager in charge of the Conway oil interests, with headquarters at Tampico.

Secretary casting one ballot. They are Frank L. Weaver, Herbert D. Burrage and Frederick A. Wood. Austin K. Chadwick was re-elected trustee of the building fund, for three years. The sum of $3000 was appropriated for oil supply, and $1476 for music; the treasurer was authorized to borrow a sum not exceeding $300 for current expenses. The financial report showed the amount of the building fund to be $22,000.

Rev. Charles T. Billings proposed a plan to increase the efficiency of the church work by dividing the membership into committees, all committees to act under the general direction of an advisory council. The plan was referred to the standing committee with full power, and a recommendation for favorable action.

CHANNING FRATERNITY MEETING

The annual meeting of the Channing fraternity followed immediately on the adjournment of the society meeting. Rev. Charles T. Billings presided. Mrs. A. M. Benson reported on the Country Week work, included a number of letters from grateful recipients of the charity. Fifty-four people were sent into the country for a week's rest during the hot weather.

Miss Julia W. Stevens reported on the work of the flower mission, which has sent flowers to the hospital, nursing station and other institutions, and into the homes of the sick.

Officers for the year were elected as follows: President, Rev. Charles T. Billings.

Vice-presidents: Frederic A. Fisher, H. D. Burrage, Mrs. Henry J. Fay, Mrs. S. T. Lincoln.

Secretary: Mrs. Arthur P. Mansur.

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN OFF

NEW DIRIGIBLE ASCENDED FROM LAKE CONSTANCE TODAY FOR 250-MILE TRIP

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Nov. 22.—The most modern of Zeppelin dirigible airships, the Zeppelin VI, intended for the service of the German army, ascended from Lake Constance today and started on his first trip during which she will try to reach Gotha, about 250 miles due north.

Work is now being pushed forward on the new naval Zeppelin which is to replace the one destroyed in the catastrophe at Johannisthal on Oct. 17, when the entire crew of 28 officers and men were killed. The airship under construction embodies all the improvements believed by experts necessary to obviate such accidents as caused the recent disaster.

EARLY MORNING FIRES

FIREMEN CALLED TO THOMPSON BOX FACTORY AND TO BUILDING ON GORHAM STREET

An alarm from box 215 at 1:30 o'clock this morning called the members of Engine 1 to the Thompson box factory on Meadowcroft street where a small blaze had started in the boiler room. It was extinguished before any damage was done.

At 5:11 o'clock this morning a curtain caught fire in the building located at the corner of Gorham and Landberg streets. An alarm from box 135 summoned the firemen and the blaze was confined to the curtain.

For Lawrence Parties Against the City State Street Railway Company

LAWRENCE, Nov. 22.—In the superior civil court at the local court house with Judge George A. Sanderson of Ayer presiding, the sealed verdicts in the cases of Stella M. Eynon and Edwin M. Eynon against the Bay State Street Railway company were opened yesterday and a verdict in the former case was for the plaintiff for $1700 and for $1200 for the plaintiff in the second case. The jury was out about nine hours.

The case was an action of tort for $5000. The plaintiff alleged she was injured while a passenger on a car going from Lawrence to Lowell, on Jan. 8, 1912, which collided with another car near Glen Forest. She was represented by Atty. M. A. Sullivan, while the defendant had Col. J. E. Sweeney as counsel.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE

A. F. of L. Urges Upon President Wilson Continuation of Peace Policies Toward Mexico

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 22.—The American Federation of Labor refused to adopt a resolution condemning armed intervention in Mexico on the ground that such intervention might be justifiable and desirable. The convention unanimously adopted the following resolution:

The American Federation of Labor condemns attempts being made by American and foreign corporations and certain jingo newspapers to force armed intervention by the United States government in Mexico and urged upon the president of the United States the continuance of a policy looking to a peaceful adjustment of the conflict among the Mexican people and that the president and the secretary of the American Federation of Labor be instructed to transmit the position of the federation upon that matter to the president of the United States.

John Mitchell, president of the A. F. of L., urged the convention not to pass a resolution which he believed there were conditions that sometimes justified war within a nation and between nations.

President Gompers said the subject had taken much time of the executive council, which had listened to representations of both Mexican factions and had had much correspondence on the subject.

"We are unconcerned in that context," he said, "if it means displacement of an armed man like Diaz, by another armed man."

Mr. Gompers eulogized Madere, denounced Huerta as an assassin and pointed out the importance of maintaining the Monroe doctrine. He continued:

President Wilson has approached this subject in statesmanlike way.
We ought to strengthen his hands in trying to find a peaceful solution of the problem; but I don't think we ought to enable Huerta to say organized labor will not permit intervention, and that he may go on with his bloody record."

The Mexican question was brought up after the convention had adopted a declaration in favor of international peace as follows:

"It is not lack of love of country which prompts the policy to protect against international strife, but they are unwilling to be exploited or killed for the promotion of private or selfish ends."

The constantly growing system of the international acceptance and ac-cognition of trade union cards is an other instance that is quickly and surely creating a fraternal spirit among workers of all lands.

"Labor organizations, the world over have committed themselves to the policy of international peace—peace with justice and honor in international politics as well as in industry."

The resolutions endorsed by the Spencer Churchill's proposal that the United States, Great Britain and Germany discontinue warship construction for a year were adopted.

The convention virtually declared war on the bricklayers' unions and plasterers' international trade union, it is alleged to have made an agreement with the National Association of Marble Dealers by which the union undertakes to do work properly belonging to the marble workers. The bricklayers are not affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The fight between the marble workers and bricklayers has resulted in

LOWELL ON THE MAP
VALUABLE NEW PLAN OF THE
CITY BEING BUILT BY THE NA-TIONAL SURVEY CO.

They are putting Lowell "on the map." To be more explicit, the National Survey Co., with offices in Portland, Maine, decided that, considering twenty-five years have elapsed since an adequate plan of the city was made,
it was high time to have an up-to-date map.

Therefore Mr. H. F. Crocker, a specialist in this sort of work, was sent here and "got busy." Operations were commenced last week and it is expected that the work will be ready for circulation about the last of December.

A whole lot has happened since 1888
(when the last wall map was made).
The new map marks the culmination of an era of business progress and optimism in a striking manner the development of 25 years. The map itself pictures this development, the very need of such a work is a tribute to it.
It is an indispensable proof of it.
It is an indispensable reference work, an indispensable business and the business men of Lowell are going to have it for their own city at any rate.
That is why they are supporting this new plan, for as we said before, a whole lot has happened since 1888, and even the city engineer's office has a hard time keeping track of things let alone the "busy business man." All the changes, duplications and additions will be made clear on the new map, all streets indexed, not by a combination of letters, but by a combination of letters and numbers, but by a cross-index system that tells just where the street is at a glance. Incidentally there are 45 new streets that are not in the latest city directory, besides a lot that have been changed.
All will be named and located with the greatest accuracy. Then there are a lot of new buildings. These will be shown, as well as all public buildings and industrial plants. Trolley lines also will be shown—in fact everything of public importance.

The addition of these features that are not ordinarily shown on city maps should greatly increase its reference value. For the sake of clearness the map will be colored, with blue water, pink ward lines, green parks, etc.
This will also add greatly to the artistic effect, a matter of no small importance when it is remembered that a map of this kind, often backed and mounted on sticks, lasts for a great many years.

The preliminary construction work is now going on in the city engineer's office, and there anyone who is interested can see how a scientifically made map is put together. Did you ever stop to think what a lot of work is involved? The assessor's plans, drawn 50 feet to the inch, form a reliable base, and from these the first drawing is built up part by part, checked and verified by actual field work. Plates of new streets, as well as buildings, tracks, etc., must all be brought to conform to this uniform scale, a work in itself of no small proportions. When all is eventually incorporated in a complete drawing a careful tracing is made in ink. This is then photographically reduced to the final scale, the reduction eliminating small errors in drafting, and lithographed, the coloring being added by stencil.

In this instance the final scale will be 500 feet to the inch. The size will be 3 1/2 x 4 feet and it will embrace the entire city.

The National Survey Co. has recently issued similar maps of many other large cities—Albany, Springfield, Lawrence, Haverhill, Lewiston, Bangor, and other places. Several large state and county maps are also under way.
Anyone interested in the new map may obtain further information by addressing The National Survey Co., care of the City Engineer's Office, Lowell.

STANDS ON HIS RECORD
Mayor Curtis for Portland, Maine, Opens
His Campaign for Re-election to Office
PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 22.—Mayor Oakley C. Curtis opened his campaign for re-election yesterday evening when he addressed the democratic candidates for the two boards of the city council and others at the state of Maine room at the Portsmouth hotel. The attendance was large and great enthusiasm was shown.

Mayor Curtis reviewed the history of his previous administrations, defended himself from the assaults of the republican speakers and pointed out that the financial condition of the city is much better and the outlook more encouraging than when he first took office.

He argued that he had only the interest of the city at heart when he asked either for a division of the surplus of the water district between the cities of Portland and South Portland, or else for a decided cutting down in the water rate.
